MOTHER OF FIVE

Suicide Occurs at Residence Where Detectives Had Taken Woman at Her Request.

SLASHES THROAT AS OFFICERS WAIT

Body Is Discovered by Little Daughter, Eline, Sent in Search for Her by Captors.

Mrs. O. W. Langford, 37, of 76 Linden avenue, N. W., mother of five young children, ended her life late Monday afternoon after having been arrested on a shoplifting charge, by severing her jugular vein with a razor, according to police reports.

She was arrested about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon by a woman operative of the Stores Mutual Protective association. It was stated, on a charge of shoplifting from a downtown department store, and was turned over to Sterling Gresham, a private detective of the association. He, together with V. D. Young, Jr., also employed by the association, at the request of Mrs. Langford, agreed to take her to her home before sending her to police station.

Child Finds Mother Dying.

Arriving at the residence they went into the house, the two detectives waiting in front of the house while Mrs. Langford went into a room in the rear, supposedly for the purpose of completing arrangements for supper before being taken to headquarters. After waiting approximately ten minutes, the detectives became suspicious and asked Eline, her 13-year-old daughter, to find out what was keeping her mother. The child did as she was asked and a minute later a scream was heard. The detectives rushed to the back of the house and discovered Mrs. Langford with her throat slashed.

She was taken to the Georgia Baptist hospital in the ambulance of Sam R. Greenberg company and was pronounced dead on arrival. An inquest is to be held this morning by Coroner Donohoe at the Greenberg funeral parlors.

Woman on Probation.

According to police records, Mrs. Langford appeared before Recorder Calloway December 19 of last year and was put on probation on a larceny charge.

Mrs. Langford's husband is said to be employed by a local automobile company as a mechanic. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mullins, of Penfield, and in addition to her husband and parents, she is survived by four brothers, Joe, Henry and Russell Mullins, of Akron, Ohio, and Bennie Mullins, who is in the United States navy; a sister, Mrs. B. W. Ford, of Atlanta, and five children, Eline, James, Oliver, Albert and Ralph. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

City policemen C. E. Floyd and L. E. Rutledge, emergency officers, investigated the case.

O. W. Langford, the husband, told police Monday night that his wife had been in ill health for some time, but that he could not explain why she had become a shoplifter.

Hinton Burnett, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Burnett, of 406 Cameron street, suffered a fractured skull and bruises about the body shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night, when the bicycle he was riding on Rosalia street, near Burns street, crashed into a tree. He was taken to Grady hospital by a passing motorist. Doctors pronounced his condition serious but expressed the belief that he would recover.

The injured boy, who is employed as a copy boy in the editorial rooms of The Journal, was unable to tell just how the accident happened. Call officers Floyd and Rutledge investigated.

MAY GO UNSOLVED

Seven Victims of Gangland's Most Heinous Crime Borne to Graves Without Usual Display.

Chicago, February 18.—(AP)—Victims of the St. Valentine day gang massacre were buried today and the authorities were left without a single definite clue to the slayers. Police struggled manfully through a maze of theories that sounded plausible but lacked evidence to support them, and unless new facts were produced the authorities admitted tonight the killings bade fair to end with the same formula of a hundred other gang slayings—a coroner's verdict that the seven members of the Moran gang who were summarily executed "merely death at the hands of persons unknown." The coroner's jury will reassemble next Friday.

Many Theories But No Facts.

Theories that the septet of gangsters were killed by a rival Chicago gang, that they were killed by a Detroit gang of gunmen imported for the purpose, and that they were killed by policemen themselves all had their ardent followers—who were without concrete evidence to back up their reasonings.

Police nabbed a gunman or gangster wherever they found one—and turned them loose after they were able to prove an alibi. About the only tangible result of the slayings in the way of concerted action by the police was a drive on speakeasies and bootleggers launched by William F. Russell, commissioner of police, after John A. Swanson, state's attorney, had ordered the police to stop the liquor traffic or go to jail. Many places were closed, but others were reported operating on the quiet despite the police activity.

Seek "Big Boy" Bates.

Johnny "Big Boy" Bates, former member of the Dion O'Banion gang and later of Cleveland, was among those sought today for questioning, mainly because he once was reported to have gained entrance to a distillery by posing as a policeman—a ruse used by the killers in gaining entrance to the Moran gang's headquarters. Two other persons who believed they saw the gangster's automobile immediately before or after the killings were found but their evidence aided little in tracing the murderers. One of them was H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, and another was a man named "Doc" whom the killer's car is believed to have collided.

The victims of the massacre were buried today without the lavish display that featured gang funerals a few years ago. A double funeral was held for Frank and Peter Gursberg, brothers, but only a handful of persons were present for the services and even fewer persons, most of them curious spectators, attended the simple services for the other victims.

URNS ON LANDING
LIGHTS WHILE 200
FEET UP IN AIR

Newark, N. J., February 18.—(AP)—Pete Branson, air mail pilot, coming in for a landing after dark tonight, while still 200 feet aloft, pushed a button in his plane that turned on the lights in the airport below him. It was the first practical application of a new principle announced only three months ago at Pittsburgh. Branson's button turned on a wind strain, three shrill blasts, which carried down to the field and impinged on a sound-sensitive apparatus that automatically turned on the 24-million candlepower floodlights of the Newark airport, eastern terminus of the air mail.

The delicate mechanism that turned on the lights was devised by Roy J. Wensley of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

Masters of Oratory Clash as Jammed House Is Held Spellbound by Eloquence.

WILL GO DOWN AS HISTORIC EVENT

Majesty of Law Is Borah's Thesis; Reed Counters With Plea for Temperance, Not Tyranny.

Washington, February 18.—(AP)—Two masters of oratory—Jim Reed, of Missouri, and William E. Borah, of Idaho—took opposing sides in the senate today and for three and a half hours spoke to a tensely listening chamber on the problems of prohibition in a debate probably destined for historic fame.

Reed denounced the law in a continuation of the speech he began on Saturday. Borah made a thundering appeal for law enforcement. Neither was interrupted and the promise of thrust and counterthrust which had filled the galleries faded as the Missouri senator walked over to the seat of the discussion and warmly grasped his hand.

Reed began his speech today by again describing the law as a "hideous crime." After two hours he took his seat and Borah claimed the floor. Reed was on his feet again when the Idahoan had concluded but Senator Heflin, of Alabama, was ahead of him. Whatever Reed had intended to say went unsaid.

Reed silver-haired Missourian retired from the senate on March 4 by his own dictate and, as if to express an eulogy on behalf of the senate, Senator Borah at the outset of his remarks expressed regret at the passing of the man "whose industry, courage and genius have placed him among the foremost men in his day."

There was nothing personal in their discussion, Reed in his measured words pleaded for state control as the answer to law violation and as a means of ridding America of its "sinners" and spies, its sneak and criminals, who have been employed with our money to haunt our doors."

Borah, in thundering tones, his hair disheveled as he shook his head and passed home his points, pleaded for observance of the constitution. Prohibition is not a problem of ten days or ten years, he said, and "possibly we cannot prevent the use of alcohol entirely, but shall we surrender to the mob?" He answered: "Fight."

The floor was crowded with house members who had deserted their side of the capitol. Steps leading down to the senate were thronged with men and women. More stood in the doorways in defiance of senate rules. Outside long lines waited for a forlorn hope that perhaps some of the speakers would have the oratorical display was over.

But scarcely a soul stirred throughout the nearly four hours that Reed and Borah held the floor. The air in the senate chamber was heavy and became heavy but still the crowd, listening with rapt attention, stayed on until the final word had been spoken.

At the outset, Reed informed the senate he was joking on Saturday when he threatened to make public the names of men who "vote dry and drink wine." He assured his colleagues with a smile that "I would not violate the confidence of my friends or the hospitality of my neighbors by ever telling anything of the sort, but that they were merely trying to get a bit of sunshine out of life."

"I thought I had made it clear that it was a joke, but I suppose I should have labeled it so," the Missourian said with a broad smile. "I am not going to give those names publicly. I would not violate the confidence of friends. So all may be composed."

Has Some Friends Left. "I may have made mistakes during my life but I have never sunk to the low level of a prohibition informer." And then the Missourian, with biting sarcasm, rebuked the prohibition law; accused the anti-Social League with substituting the doctrine of force for that of reason; declared that the great reason for being addicted to use of stimulants; denounced corruption.

Petitions of Southern Oil Stores and Wofford Oil Company Is Refused by City Council.

HEATED DEBATE
HELD IN COUNCIL

Danger of Fire Hazard and Explosion Stressed; Probe of Price of Gasoline Urged.

City council Monday afternoon declined to permit establishment of gasoline tanks of 20,000-gallon capacity within the city limits in two instances, following heated debate.

Petition of the Southern Oil Stores, Inc., of Birmingham, to establish two 20,000-gallon tanks connected by a pipe line to a service station on Whitehall street, near Stewart avenue, was turned down by a vote of 24 to 9, and a request of the Wofford Oil Company to set up two 20,000-gallon gasoline tanks at more than 25 stations operated throughout the city also was denied by an overwhelming vote.

Appeal Thwarted. W. Paul Carpenter, attorney representing the Southern Oil Stores, declared his company would appeal to the courts in the effort to force establishment of the station in accordance with specifications already outlined.

Practically every member of council was involved in the fight which centered about revocation by council of a permit to locate the station. The permit was repealed because of the recognized fire and explosion hazard which opponents claimed would result from storing such large quantities of inflammable in the thickly populated downtown district.

Council referred to the municipal record at a recent meeting, a resolution of Councilman Robert Cobb, of the ninth, which provided that the attorney general of the state of Georgia investigate the price of gasoline in Atlanta from a view of ascertaining whether there is a combine to control or fix prices. Under the paper the city attorney would be instructed to "keep a watchful eye on the extent of instituting suit if need be."

Members of the committee are Robert F. Pennington, chairman; Dr. J. E. Turner, Harry York, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, with a view of ascertaining whether there is a combine to control or fix prices. Under the paper the city attorney would be instructed to "keep a watchful eye on the extent of instituting suit if need be."

Those voting for permitting the Southern Oil Stores to establish the two 20,000-gallon tanks were Moon, Huie, Ashley, Gilliam, Rountree, Morris, Reynolds, Cobb and Wile.

Those voting against permitting the station were Couch, Gann, Dobbs, Buchanan, Williamson, Millican, Murdock and Wile.

PUBLISHER HURLS LIE AT GOVERNOR

Ewing Says Long's Raid on New Orleans Gamblers Result of Pique Over Failure to Dictate.

New Orleans, February 18.—(AP)—Political Louisiana stood on the sidelines today watching the battle between its two leaders, Colonel Robert Ewing, democratic national committeeman, and Governor Huey P. Long.

Until a few weeks ago these two had been fast political friends but they split and, in the splitting they hurled volcanic charges at each other and each called upon the other to resign his political position.

Each charged the other with being unfit for public office and in a front page editorial in his New Orleans States today, Colonel Ewing offered to retire as committeeman if Governor Long would quit the governorship.

In a statement Saturday night Governor Long accused the colonel of league with professional gamblers, but Colonel Ewing charged today that the real motive of this dastardly outburst of Mr. Long against his benefactors came from his refusal to form an alliance so that the governor could dictate "the political and other affairs of both city and state."

"Only respect for the office he holds restrains me from denouncing Mr. Long as an unmitigated liar," the Ewing editorial said. "It is sufficient to say that in these charges he handles the truth with the carelessness characteristic of him."

"Mr. Long has had for years an insatiable ambition to be governor and Mr. Ewing had infinitely more to do with enabling him to gratify that ambition than Mr. Long had in making Ewing national committeeman. No one but Mr. Long, drunk with power and aspiring to be the tyrant of Louisiana, has any fault to find with Mr. Ewing's service as national committeeman. Mr. Long has been a defaulter on his pledges and, provided his delusions of grandeur are to continue, if he does not soon return to normal, his administration is doomed to fail."

Special Train Rushes Next President Northward After Month's Vacation in Florida.

Hoover Train En Route to Washington, February 18.—(AP)—Once more the familiar cluck of wheels against rails sounded in the ears of President-elect Hoover today as his special train bore him from his vacation home at Miami Beach back to the national capital for his inauguration two weeks hence.

Having traveled more than 30,000 miles by train, boat and automobile since his nomination last June, Mr. Hoover probably was making his last journey for a couple of months. However, it is certain that he will make many trips while he is chief executive, both over the United States and even into near-by countries, as he desires to visit the West Indies and Mexico.

Crowds Gather at Stations.

Although it had been repeatedly announced before Mr. Hoover left Miami at 10:30 a. m., that his train would make no other than operating stops en route to Washington, crowds were gathered at many towns along the line up the eastern coast of Florida in the hope of at least catching a glimpse of the next chief executive.

Hundreds were disappointed, for in order to maintain its almost record-breaking schedule, the special went through most of the places at high speed with whistle screaming its warning. At other towns the crowds assembled at the stations were more fortunate.

A few who were at the West Palm Beach depot had a fine view of the president-elect as he stood on the rear platform of his private car in earnest but brief conference with James Francis Barker, general counsel of the republican national committee, who is spending the winter at Palm Beach.

St. Pierce Sees Hoover.

An operating stop at Fort Pierce gave a crowd there an opportunity to see Mr. Hoover as he stood on the platform shaking hands with a delegation of Philadelphians, who are spending the winter there.

A few who were at the train slowed down sufficiently for several hundred to get at least a glimpse of the next president, who smiled broadly when the mayor struggled to hold up a signed stuffed turban, a species that Mr. Hoover failed to land on his excursions to the Gulf stream and the Florida keys.

"Look what you missed by not coming here," the mayor said.

Again at New Smyrna an operating stop was made and a crowd was out, as was the case at other towns along the route until darkness fell.

Officers Raid
Cache of Rum
In Skyscraper

All Kinds of Liquors, Pints, Quarts, Gallons Found.

One of the largest whisky caches ever discovered in the downtown section of Atlanta was unearthed Monday by Federal Agent F. B. Clark and City Officers Allen and Head when the search of an office in the Wynne-Claughton building yielded 76 pints of rum, four quarts of rum, five quarts of rye, five quarts of Scotch, 11 gallons of corn whisky in cans, five pounds of new corn, seven boxes of charred sticks and six jars of a flavoured extract, according to a report Monday made to H. P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator for this district.

John C. Griffith was arrested in connection with the raid and at the time of his arrest, had in his possession keys to the special lock on the office door and two pints of whisky, it was stated. He was held in default of a $1,000 state bond and a $250 federal bond, the report said.

The raid was made Monday morning following reports that whisky was being dispensed at the Wynne-Claughton building. By tracing a phone number, which had been shifted from another address, the location was at last determined, and Clark, Allen and Head started their investigation.

"W. B. Gibbs Tailor" was found to be firmly barred to the public with a special lock and an investigation of 414 revealed nothing at all. At this juncture, Griffith is said to have made an exit from 415 and was prevailed upon to admit the officers to have a look around. They searched among dust-covered files and in a desk proved very fruitful, they reported.

Bank Law Held Invalid;
A Statute Since 1833

MANLEY DECISION MAY AFFECT OTHER CASES

The section of the state banking department law held unconstitutional by the United States supreme court Monday in a decision handed down in the Manley case has been a part of the penal statutes of Georgia since 1833 and was incorporated into the banking department law in 1919 and became a part of that law when it was approved by the governor August 16, 1919, according to a statement issued Monday afternoon by A. B. Mobley, superintendent of the department, and Judge O. A. J. Parks, special attorney.

This section is section 28 of article 20 and is as follows: Section 28, article 20: Bank insolvency deemed fraudulent: Every insolvency of a bank shall be deemed fraudulent, and the president and directors shall be severally punished by imprisonment and labor in the penitentiary for not less than one (1) year nor longer than ten (10) years; provided, that the defendant in a case arising under this section, may repel the presumption of fraud by showing that the affairs of the bank have been fairly and legally administered, and generally, with the same care and diligence that agents receiving a commission for their services are required and bound by law to observe; and upon such showing the jury shall acquit the prisoner.

In the statement issued by Mr. Mobley and Judge Parks it was pointed out that the section has been upheld by the supreme court of Georgia as constitutional on several different occasions. It first was written in the penal statutes in 1833 and from time to time has been carried forward by the legislature. It was incorporated in the banking department law since 1919 and several men have been convicted and have served sentences in the state prison following their conviction of violating this statute. J. R. Bittings, a banker of Chatsworth county, was convicted and sentenced to serve from two to four years and is now serving his sentence on the prison gang in Muscogee county, according to Judge E. L. Rainey, chairman of the state prison commission.

When Manley was placed on trial in Fulton county on the fraudulent insolvency charge in connection with the failure of one of a chain of 140 banks in Georgia his attorneys entered a demurrer to the indictment which was overruled by the trial judge. The act of the trial judge later was sustained in a decision of the supreme court of Georgia. The case then was carried to the United States supreme court and that body ruled that the Georgia statute is unconstitutional.

Mr. Mobley and Mr. Parks were not certain as to the status of persons who have been convicted on this statute. Mr. Mobley said he supposed the governor would grant a pardon in such a case or that the defendant would immediately seek a new trial. In explaining his view of the supreme court decision, Mr. Mobley said the statute does not set any definite standard of guilt.

"If a person is tried on a charge of larceny or other crime and is charged the law presumes he is innocent until he is proved to be guilty," Mr. Mobley said. "In the case of this statute the person is presumed to be guilty and must prove his innocence."

J. Sam Slicer, head of the Colonial Trust company of Atlanta, and A. K. Sneed, of Carrollton, head of the Citizens Bank of Carrollton, are two men who were convicted under this statute. Both appealed their cases and these appeals are now pending in higher courts.

Mr. Mobley said the state banking department was in no sense the prosecutor in the Manley case and declared that the entire prosecution was handled by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin. He said he had been informed that there are 24 other indictments outstanding against Manley in state courts, and also several indictments in federal courts.

No exact time for the forecasted transfers was determined, but they were expected to take place within a short time.

Mr. Clift, in his 40 years' service with the Illinois Central, has been successively brakeman, conductor, superintendent, general manager, vice president in charge of operation, and senior vice president. He gained the last place four years ago.

BANKER IS FREED
AS SUPREME COURT
HITS GEORGIA LAW

High Tribunal Holds That Statute Creates Presumption of Fraud When State Banks Fail.

SLICER CONVICTION MAY BE NULLIFIED

Federal Indictment and Other State Indictments Against Manley Not Affected by Court Ruling.

Following announcement from Washington Monday that the United States supreme court had set aside conviction of W. D. Manley, former president of the Bankers' Trust company, under the Georgia fraudulent bank insolvency act, and had held that statute invalid, Clint W. Hager, United States district attorney, announced that he would confer with Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, of the Atlanta circuit of the superior court, on the remaining indictments. The conference will be held just as soon as Mr. Boykin returns to the city.

From statements of state and federal officials, it was evident that the prosecution will not allow the decision of the supreme court to interfere with charges against Manley involving other statutes.

Manley is under 25 state indictments, and also under one indictment of 20 counts in the federal court. Decision as to which court will try him awaits the return of Mr. Boykin, solicitor general of the Atlanta circuit, and the conference with Mr. Hager, it is said.

State Act Held Invalid.

Under Monday's decision by the highest court, Manley's sentence of nine to ten years for alleged fraudulent bank insolvency was thrown out on the basis that the bank act created a presumption of fraud when state banks became insolvent and that it violated the due process of law by operating to deny a fair opportunity to repel it. That the same decision of the supreme court would act to nullify conviction of J. S. Slicer, former president of the Colonial Trust company, under the same act, was the opinion of Ben J. Conyers, of counsel for both Manley and Slicer. Mr. Conyers said that steps would be taken to request the state supreme court, now considering Slicer's case, to apply the higher court's ruling to Slicer.

Both Slicer and J. S. Conner, secretary and treasurer of the Colonial, are under indictments for other alleged violations in connection with the crash of the company. Norman's recent hearing resulted in a mistrial, and further trial of the issue was deferred pending decision of the United States supreme court in the Manley case.

Though declining to comment on the ruling of the United States supreme court, it is said.

"Coquette" Contest Winners

LUCKY GIRLS GIVEN BIGGEST THRILL OF TRIP

Guests at Pickford Home

BY LILLIE MAY ROBINSON,
Special Staff Correspondent.
Hollywood, Calif., February 18.

Today to 25 young "Coquette" contest winners and as many newspaper women has come the biggest thrill of our trip. We have been entertained by Doug and Mary at their famed estate, Pickfair. And while we were being entertained we each learned that not only is the estate justly famous as a beauty spot but that its talented owners' wide reputation for hospitality is even more deserved.

Meeting us on the lawn our host and hostess immediately made our party of rather awed girls and women feel the genuine warmth of their welcome as they showed us about their magnificent home. Through the great house we went and then over the rolling lawns, through the gardens, around the swimming pool and then on to the large canopied lounging pavilion we went, impressed at every turn by the luxury and good taste that we found.

Then we had tea on the sunlit lawn, under spreading, graceful boughed trees and among brightly colored flowers such as are found only in this golden state. As we ate, Mary passed around us making each feel at home and impressing each anew with the feeling that she was indeed "the perfect hostess."

After tea we returned to the house where Miss Pickford grouped her guests around her as all were entertained by a stringed instrument quartet. Then as we prepared to leave Mary presented each one with a large autographed photo of herself and you may be sure that these splendid pictures will be treasured by the recipients, reminding them as they do of that happy afternoon.

I believe I referred above to Pickfair as a "magnificent" home. That does not accurately describe it. It is luxurious and magnificent but at the same time lacks all the austerity and coldness sometimes found in very large houses. Rather this place is homelike and there one feels radiated the charm of Doug and Mary, as they really are. It is in short, a real home in which real people live.

This long-to-be-remembered afternoon was followed by an evening spent at the famous Hollywood Chinese theater as the guests of the owner, Sid Grauman. This show house is said to be unique among all theaters and it certainly seemed that it must be. Ornate and resplendent with rich colors it reminded one of a huge pagoda. Embedded in the floor of the outer lobby are the foot and hand prints of many famous persons and movie stars. We saw here the picture, "Broadway Melody." And then back to our hotel and to bed.

But to a sleep excited by pleasant dreams of a pleasant day and of tomorrow—to be spent in Mary's studio.

OBOY BREAD

WHAT other staple food can be served in so many ways as bread? And what other bread is so appetizing every way as Oboy bread? It makes delicious sandwiches. It's good just with golden butter, jam or jelly. It blends perfectly into Bread Pudding or Brown Betty. And as for toast—well—there's crisp, brown breakfast toast, toast sticks and croutons, French toast, cinnamon toast, milk toast, toast with Welsh Rarebit—in fact so popular has Oboy become that we can safely call it, "The Toast of the Town." BAPTIST LEADERS LAUD CARNES CASE HANDLING

Dr. Luther Rice Christie Is Praised by Clergy and Laity for His Stand.

Leaders of the clergy and laity all over the 18 states of the Southern Baptist convention Monday telegraphed approval of the stand taken by Dr. Luther Rice Christie, president of the convention's Home Mission board, in the case of Clinton S. Carnes, who last week began a five-year term at the state prison farm for embezzlement of the board's funds. Carnes is alleged to have stolen $809,000 during his nine-year tenure as board treasurer. Twenty indictments were returned against him, the ex-treasurer pleading guilty to one and accepting sentence. The remaining 19 are being held in abeyance and will not be pressed unless Carnes should elect to seek a pardon or parole before having completed the five-year term.

Among the messages of endorsement received Monday was a telegram from Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturer's Record, and in

I went through taking care of two cases of whooping-cough in which I lost one of my little girls. I am sure I would have been down sick in bed if I had not been taking IRONIZED YEAST at that time, as I was caring for the baby I lost almost night and day for 3 weeks. IRONIZED YEAST I am sure helped me to be here to write this now."

People who had tried everything else in vain and who did not believe that IRONIZED YEAST could help them, write how they gained 5 to 15 pounds in a few weeks. CUT IN TOLERANCE PERCENTAGE OPPOSED

Reduction Would Seriously
Affect Apple Growers,
Youmans Asserts.

Further lowering of tolerance percentage relating to shipment of clean apples from north Georgia orchards would seriously affect apple shippers, according to a statement issued Monday by M. S. Youmans, state entomologist. The present tolerance percentage is .02 and the federal food and drug bureau is now working toward a tolerance of .01 per cent according to the entomologist. He points out to apple growers that the entomology department maintains an experiment station at Cornelia under C. H. Alden and that they can obtain further information concerning the government proposals at that station. Discussing the situation, Mr. Youmans said:

"In reply to a recent telegram, W. G. Campbell, director food, drug and insecticide administration, U. S. D. A., advised me that he was working toward the international tolerance of .01. It would be necessary, according to the statement from the food, drug and insecticide administration, for the apple growers to install washing machines if this tolerance is met. The water in which the apples are washed would contain one-half per cent of hydrochloric acid. These machines have only been tested for two years in the northwest and only until last year did they give satisfactory service and then were very costly and complicated."

"You can readily see the situation that the apple growers of this state will be placed if this tolerance is lowered. I believe that it would be advisable for every apple grower in the state of Georgia to write the senators and their respective congressmen and urge them to fight a reduction from the present tolerance of .02."

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT TO PAY DEBTS SOON

Second Million Is Paid to Board by Secretary
Of State.

All obligations outstanding against the state highway department will be cleared up and paid within a few weeks, according to a statement made Monday by John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board. The department drew warrants aggregating $1,000,000 against this amount of money recently placed in the treasury department to the credit of the highway board by the state motor vehicle bureau. This was the second million dollars paid over to the highway board by George H. Carswell, secretary of state.

Chairman Holder said Monday that he understood that about $900,000 more has been collected from the sale of automobile license tags. "The license tag money along with the money we will get from gasoline tax receipts and anticipated federal aid will place this department in excellent condition and we should have all old obligations cleaned up within a few weeks," he said.

The chairman returned Monday after an inspection of division offices of the highway department in Griffin, Americus, Thomasville, Waycross, Savannah and Augusta. He said he found conditions in excellent shape in these offices.

COL. E. T. DONNELLY DIES AT HOME HERE

Retired Army Officer Was Widely Known Here; Had Brilliant Military Career.

Colonel Edward T. Donnelly, United States army officer, who was retired after a brilliant career of long and distinguished military service, died early Monday morning at the residence, 5 Ansley drive, N. E. He will be buried in Arlington cemetery Wednesday with full military honors, following funeral services in Washington.

Prominently known here for his social connections and residence in Atlanta during his early military days, when the department of the gulf maintained headquarters in this city, Colonel Donnelly leaves a wide circle of friends and former associates.

He was born in New York in 1871 and began his career as a soldier early in life. At the time of the Spanish-American war he served as captain of the Eighth New York infantry and later with the Forty-third United States infantry. In 1901 he transferred to the artillery service, first field, with which unit he remained until his retirement in 1926.

Assigned to the general staff at Washington at the opening of the world war, with rank of major, he later was appointed colonel of field artillery in the national army and trained the 30th field artillery.

Early in 1918 Colonel Donnelly went overseas, where he was in active service until the close of the war, stationed with the Eighty-ninth division as brigadier general. In 1920 he was appointed military attaché to Italy, returning to his command in 1924 at Fort Sill, where he remained until retired on account of ill health.

Colonel Donnelly married Mrs. Flora Fitten Bewick, of Atlanta, who survives him. Besides his widow, he leaves one son, Harry Bewick, of Atlanta; a daughter, Mrs. Wallace Wright, of England; a brother, Nicholas A. Donnelly, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed, both of New York.

NEBRASKAN LAUDS GRAND OPERA HERE AS LEADING ASSET

One of Atlanta's greatest assets is the annual week of grand opera, in the opinion of Arthur Lawson, of Hastings, Neb., who is at the Biltmore, having come to Atlanta from the Mardi Gras in New Orleans largely because of reports that had reached him in Nebraska relative to Atlanta's successful opera presentations. He is in the manufacturing business in Hastings, but, according to local friends, is principally engaged in patronizing the fine arts and developing his community.

"Of course," he explained, "I do not mean the week of opera alone. But the success that grand opera has met with in Atlanta is evidence of your further acceptance of cultural things, and I believe any community that encourages movements that appeal to man's highest nature will attain a solid development along every line. We have proved this in Hastings. We are now developing a symphony orchestra. During the winter season we present, as a civic matter, a series of concerts. People come for 200 miles around to attend these concerts. We have traced the acquisition of many of our permanent residents to these concerts and other cultural developments. I think another decided asset which Atlanta enjoys is the fact that all railroads allow a ten-day stopover here, affording southbound tourists the opportunity of spending a few days in this very modern city, which, apparently, has lost none of the charm of the old south in its acceptance of the hustling business methods of other sections."

DR. MELHORN OPENS EVANGELISTIC DRIVE

Editor of Lutheran Official Organ Speaks at Tabernacle.

Dr. Nathan R. Melhorn will speak today at the Baptist Tabernacle in the second of the union noon meetings in which 85 Atlanta churches are co-operating. The meeting will last from 12:15 to 12:45 o'clock.

He will address his audience on "Saving—the Great Divine Objective." In his first address Dr. Melhorn, who is editor of the Lutheran Church in America, spoke on "The Logic of Faith." He took his text from John 14:2: "Ye believe in God; believe also in me."

Dr. Melhorn's initial audience totaled about 500, and he kept them interested as he drove home point after point of his argument. He is possessed of a keen sense of humor, and his discourse was interspersed with stories illustrating most effectively his many points. He carried his audience with him in flights of fancy and made his arguments most interesting.

Dr. Melhorn made a very fine point when he demanded of his audience what other class than the Christian would mould the past, present and future into so satisfying a trinity. "Where is the trial of tradition, experience and hope truly related except in Christ?"

These meetings will continue daily except Saturday, at the same hour, and until March 31. They have been planned to enable as many downtown workers as possible to attend during their lunch hour.

plans for the coming months and to hear an address by Philip P. Gott, assistant manager of the trade association department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Mr. Gott was formerly secretary of the Ohio State Trade Association of Builders' Exchanges and is recognized as an expert in the field of trade relations as applying to the building material industry. His trip to Atlanta is occasioned by the progress made in trade extension work of the Southern Clay Products association during the past three years. The Southern Clay Products association, a non-profit organization doing educational work on burned clay products, is maintained by leading manufacturers in this territory to supply helpful information to building ers on the use of brick and tile. It is headed by W. E. Dunwoody, of Macon, president; C. W. Dixon, Jacksonville, vice president; J. L. Hankinson, Augusta, vice president; J. E. Minter, Columbus, treasurer, and W. G. Lasserre, Macon, secretary.

EFFORT TO STOP PAVING OF ROAD DENIED BY COURT

The state supreme court Monday refused to grant an injunction sought by I. F. Murphy and other taxpayers of Macon county seeking to restrain from paving a relocated section four miles long on state highway No. 49, which is a portion of the Dixie highway. The section of the highway involved traverses Macon county from the Peach county line to the Sumter county line, between Marshallville and Oglethorpe. The petitioners, who own property along the old route, sought to prevent the commissioners and the state highway department from applying part of an appropriation of $100,000 appropriated for the purpose of paving the revised route which reduced the mileage by one mile.

DR. DAVIS URGED TO RECONSIDER HIS RESIGNATION

Efforts to persuade Dr. W. E. Davis, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, who Sunday tendered his resignation because of ill health, to reconsider and accept a leave of absence until he recovers were given impetus Monday. A special meeting of the congregation was called for next Sunday morning to consider the pastor's resignation, at which time it is planned to act upon the movement for granting a leave of absence, it was stated. Dr. Davis has been convalescing from an operation undergone several weeks ago, but physicians fear serious impairment of his health may result if he does not take a long rest. Dr. Davis came to Atlanta from Staunton, Va., three years ago and since then has endeavored himself to his congregation and has won a high place among his fellow clergymen.

The general offices of the company at New York compiled all data and based the award upon management of agency, improvement in operating costs and increased sales. Mr. Yerrington says that he attributes much of the credit to cooperation he received from his associates at the local agency.

He will be introduced by the Rev. W. W. Meminger, in charge of program arrangements. Vocal selections by Mrs. John V. Heidt, accompanied by George Brown, organist of the All Saints' Episcopal church, will supplement the program.

LIONS TO MEET TODAY Ex-Governor Walker Will Be Principal Speaker.

Former Governor Clifford Walker will address the weekly meeting of the Atlanta Lions' club at 12:30 o'clock today, in the Henry Grady hotel. Mr. Walker will speak on "Fifty Years' Progress in Government." Guests of honor for the occasion will include Governor Hardman, Mayor Kassale, Judge Pomeroy and Judge Doid. NEW MEETING IS SET TO DISCUSS MERGER

DeKalb County Asked To Send Delegates to Kirkwood Gathering.

Improvement clubs in DeKalb county will be asked to send representatives to a meeting to be held at the Masonic hall at Kirkwood at 8 o'clock Thursday night, for the purpose of discussing the proposed merger with Fulton county. It was decided Monday night at a meeting of the merger committee of the Twelfth Ward Improvement club, which was held at the home of W. E. Saunders, 32 Saunders street. Representatives of other improvement clubs attended the meeting, including J. T. Lyon, representing Avondale, and B. F. Fraser, Jr., president of the Druid Hills club. The principal business of the evening was the discussion of the best plan of procedure to bring about the proposed merger. A number of suggestions were offered in regard to bringing the idea to the attention of the people of the county, among which was a plan to send out pamphlets. It also was decided that when a working organization had been formed speakers would be sent out to all parts of the county for the purpose of arousing interest in the movement. At the meeting Thursday night, it was explained, an executive committee would be formed from the representatives attending, the new body to function as the leading force in the drive to create a favorable sentiment and to direct the campaign in general. The movement so far has been scattered, it was said, and beginning Thursday, it is planned to formulate a definite course of action which would enable all the separate organizations to co-operate to the fullest extent. A big part of the campaign will be to get DeKalb residents to register so that the will of the majority can be expressed on the question at the polls. Comment highly favorable to the merger was reported from many sections of the county and it is planned to form local clubs in various other portions which are not at present organized. W. M. Sutton, chairman of the 12th ward committee, presided at the meeting.

Police Station Wedding Satisfies Everybody As to Couple's Status

Under the official scrutiny of a number of police officers, Alonzo G. Fee and a pretty waitress, who insisted that she was Mrs. Fee, Monday afternoon were married at police headquarters to satisfy all concerned that they were legally man and wife. It seems that the couple came to Atlanta several weeks ago from Kansas City and while the man was unable to find work the girl was employed as a waitress. Some talk was started, however, and the result was that Fee found himself arrested upon suspicion. The young wife hurried to the station and rigorously maintained that Fee was her lawfully wedded husband. The couple seemed unable to furnish proof of their marriage immediately, so to satisfy everybody the girl suggested that they be married again. Accordingly, she purchased a special license which provides for immediate wedding without the publishing of the banns and they were united. Everyone seems satisfied now.

"Voila!" reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet -

always fashionable*

Paul Poiret,
Famous Parisian
Creator of Fashions

"If you want to keep slender (and who doesn't in these days) avoid sweets and smoke Lucky Strikes. There seems to be something about them; possibly the flavor, that satisfies the craving for the rich things that add weight.

"Voila! reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet—the trim figure is always fashionable. Advertisements that I saw when I recently arrived in America, said:—'The best way for sugar to be eaten is as a flavorer of foods'. They are quite correct in cautioning a modified use of sugar. Sweets to excess are bad. I advocate a few puffs of the Lucky Strike toasted flavor when sweets tempt.

"I may add that I smoke Lucky Strikes myself, and I think they have contributed much to the state of mind which has helped me to create my greatest successes.

"Lucky Strikes are certainly an inspiration!"

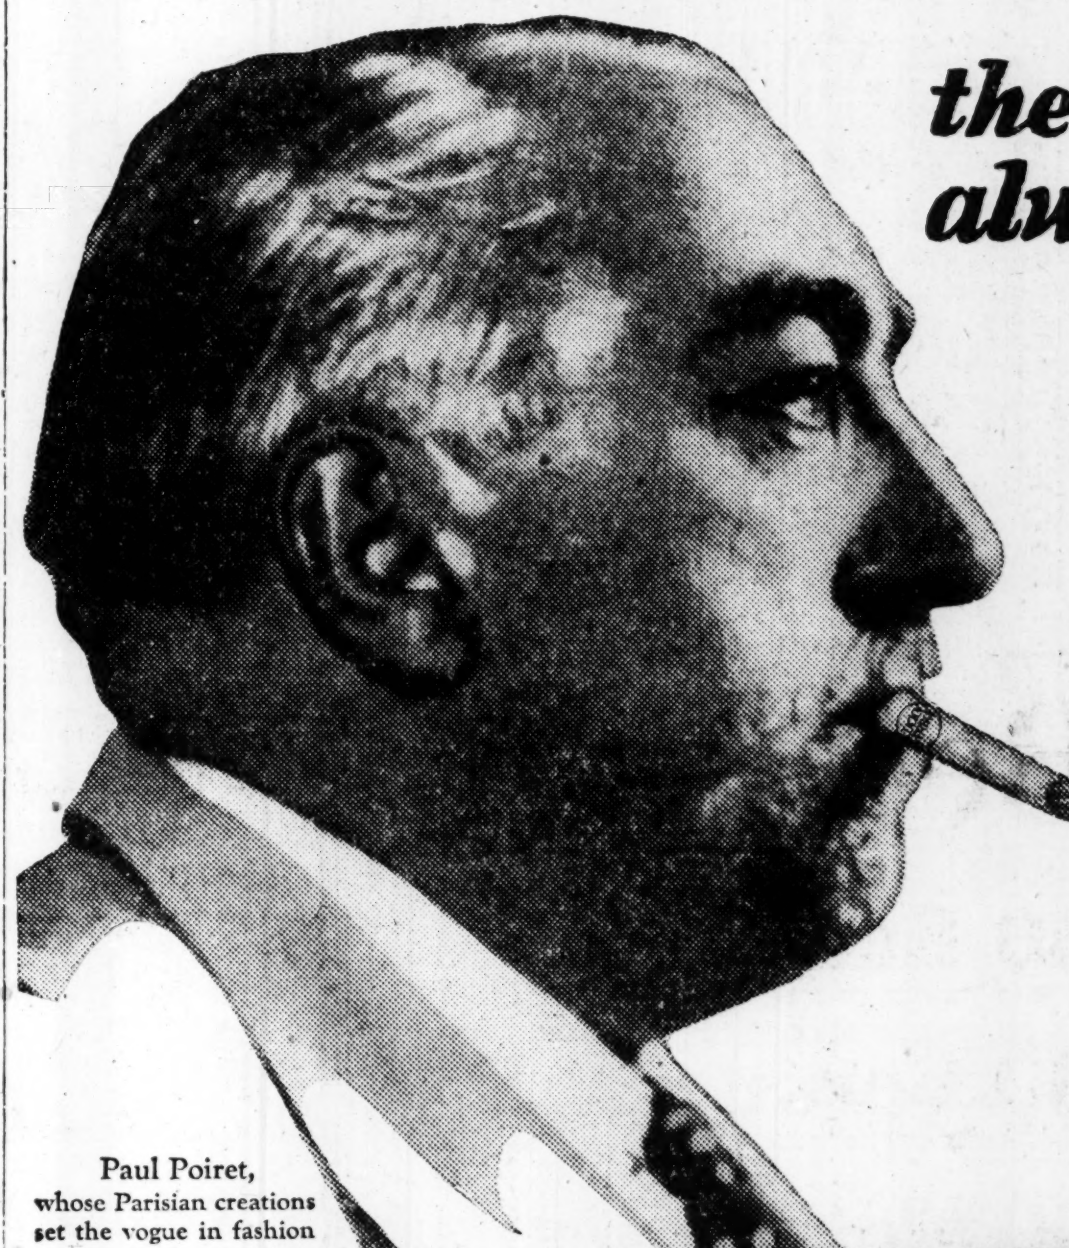

PAUL POIRET

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Council Declines to Award Plumbing Work to Shivers; Contracts Will Be Divided

Six Contractors Will Get Work in Ten Public Schools of System at Total Cost of $76,810.61.

Rejecting recommendations of the Atlanta board of education and the Atlanta bond commission that contracts for heating and plumbing in 10 Atlanta schools be awarded to W. G. Shivers at a blanket contract price of $75,121, city council Monday afternoon accepted recommendation of the school committee of city council which split the work between half a dozen contractors at a cost of $76,810.61.

Objection to the Shivers bid was that he was permitted to amend it after all other bids were opened and were public property. Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, chairman of the school committee, offered the recommendation to that body. Contract for about $1,800 worth of equipment also was let, over the protest of Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth ward, that too much bond money was spent "foolishly."

Council accepted original recommendations of the joint contract committee of the board of education and the bond commission which the board rejected at a special meeting held last Friday afternoon.

The following bids were approved by council:

Commercial High—Plumbing, Burns Plumbing company, $4,337.02; heating, Farrell Heating and Plumbing company, $11,880.

ATLANTA BARS BIG OIL TANKS IN TOWN

phy, Wardlaw, Locher, Turner, McCutcheon, Chiswick, Berman, Spratt, Cooper, Lyle, Johnson, Smith and Saunders.

Newspaper accounts of the proceedings of the fire board at which the petition of the Southern company was advised and a minority report filed, were scored by Councilman Howard

McCutcheon, of the second, and Moore, of the eighth.

Storm Is Started.

Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth, who is chairman of the fire board, started the storm when he called up the petition of the Woford Oil company to set up the two 20,000-gallon tanks at each of its service stations.

This paper was voted down overwhelmingly, and then the petition requesting council to permit establishment of the two 20,000-gallon tanks for the Southern stores was read.

Councilman McCutcheon took the floor against the paper and in behalf of the adverse report of the committee.

"This is not a fight as to whether the company shall be permitted to do business in Atlanta as newspapers have said," Mr. McCutcheon declared.

"It is only a question as to whether we shall permit special privileges. If this company wants to come into Atlanta and operate under the same conditions as others operate, I will be one of the first to vote for a permit."

"Certain individuals have called this an effort on the part of Everett Millican and Wiley L. Moore to keep their people out because they are competing with oil companies located here now. That is not the case. It is a question of whether we shall allow special privileges to a leasing company."

"We shall protect the citizens of Atlanta against a fire hazard or whether we shall feed all the companies operating in Atlanta out of the same spoon and do all in our power to prevent fire hazards."

Moore Defends Stand.

Taking the floor, Mr. Moore declared he had no ax to grind, and would not appear before council in the matter if he had not been mentioned in it.

He also scored newspaper accounts of the proceedings of the fire board, and subsequent stories.

"I never voted against this company coming to Atlanta, and am still in favor of granting it a permit no matter at what price they sell gasoline," Mr. Moore said, "provided the company abides by the same laws which govern us."

"That is fair and equitable," Burns said.

"Local companies have between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 invested here. They employ more than 5,000 persons and counting filling station company employees there are about 14,000."

When the Woford Oil company, with which I am affiliated, first came to Atlanta, they had large tanks into which we unloaded from tank cars at Stewart avenue and Whitehall street, less than 500 feet from the site on which this company wants to establish its tanks. We moved them of our own volition because we feared an explosion. If you grant this permit and others which will be asked, you will be setting Atlanta on top of the biggest stick of dynamite possible."

"This proposed new company will not serve all Atlanta. It will only partially serve it. Revenue coming into the city from its establishment would total only about $300 a year. The firm will not own any real estate, but would occupy the strip as a lease holder only. In the event of an explosion or fire, no matter how negligent employees were, they could withdraw from the jurisdiction of local courts within two hours and any redress would have to come from foreign tribunals."

"If location of this company were honest or sincere they would be willing to locate here under the same restrictions other companies operate under. Who not care what price they sell gasoline. That is their business."

White Urges Permit.

Councilman White reviewed the long history of the attempt of the Southern Oil Stores to locate the tanks and station here. He cited council's previous action in granting the permit to set up the same tanks and station which the company was seeking in the petition Monday to have renewed.

"These people came here and invested money after this same council and the same mayor approved the station and tanks on the same site last July."

"When competing companies discovered what had been done, they got busy, held up a paper which would have permitted the Southern Oil company to lower curbs, when it reached the site, and then slipped through this body a new ordinance regulating gasoline storage in Atlanta and revoking the permit which was issued last July."

"When this ordinance was passed, the Southern Oil company was entitled to establish this station. They complied with every specification, and had the approval of Chief William B. Colby, of the fire department, fire inspectors, association, Building Inspector C. J. Bowen and all others whose authority was needed."

"But when it was learned that this company was going to sell gasoline cheap, the permit issued was revoked, and although several efforts already have been made to have it renewed in justice and fairness to the petitioners, it has been refused."

"We made special concessions to Sears-Roebuck & company, the Chevrolet Motor company and others. Why not give the people of Atlanta the benefit of a reduced price in gasoline?"

Mr. Huie declared there was a moral obligation of council to grant the installation in accordance with the permit granted last July.

"I am voting for the paper because this council authorized it before any restriction had been placed on the size of tanks," Mr. Huie said.

"I am voting for the petition of the Woford Oil company because I feel it should have the same rights and privileges of any other competing company. We should let them all set up the tanks."

Councilman Tom C. Morris, of the fifth ward, and Alderman P. L. Moon also spoke in favor of permitting the Southern company to establish the station as originally planned.

Others who participated in the debate included: Councilman Raleigh Drennon, of the ninth; Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth; Councilman Harry York, of the sixth; Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth; Councilman Joseph Berman, of the fourth; Councilman Frank Reynolds, of the eighth.

Gas Price Probe.

Introduction of Mr. Cobb's paper to investigate the price of gasoline called for a barrage of questions as to the price of gasoline in Georgia as compared to other states.

Alderman Millican declared that the tank wagon price in Georgia, without adding the four-cent state tax, is 15 cents here as against 17 in New York, where there is no state tax. He declared quotations in newspapers have been misleading because of the fact that the state tax has not been considered.

When asked why some dealers in Georgia sell from one to two cents under the price in Atlanta, Mr. Millican declared that the station managers themselves paid the difference, but that the tank wagon charge is constant.

"These dealers just sell for a smaller profit, although they pay the same price for the commodity as those who sell at the top price," he said.

DEPARTMENT HEAD APPOINTMENT PLAN FAILS OF PASSAGE

City council Monday afternoon declined to pass a proposal by Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, to permit city council to elect all department heads at the expiration of their present terms of service instead of having them named by the voters, and referred the measure to the charter revision committee for a recommendation.

The paper would permit council to elect a dozen city officials now chosen by the people and would give voters a direct choice only on the mayor and members of city council.

Those affected by the paper are city attorney, recorder of the police court, treasurer, building inspector, comptroller, marshal, tax collector, superintendent of waterworks, chief of construction, city warden and city electrician.

Councilman Ben T. Huie, of the third ward, offered an amendment to the ordinance governing the age limit of Atlanta policemen. The paper, which was referred to the police committee of city council for consideration, would change the eligible limit from 23 to 35. At present it is 21 to 30.

to town, so that my life may keep the regular car and not be troubled by bringing me to town and coming for me in the afternoon," one purchaser said. "It's an excellent plan for both of us, and we can afford it now that 'Opportunity Week' has brought such substantial reduction in price of good used cars."

Other men who use their cars a great deal for business purposes bought guaranteed used cars for their wives, and many other needs for a second car in a family were filled by purchases during the day.

The dealers promise that values will be maintained at a record level throughout the week, and add that all who visit their display floors will be surprised and gratified at the low prices they have placed upon their merchandise for this week.

30 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO ROSTER OF WEST END CLUB

More than 30 new members were added to the roster of the West End Business Men's club at a meeting of that organization Monday night at the Lee Street school, marking the close of a membership campaign. In addition to the 32 admitted to membership about 74 more have been pledged and will be initiated within the next few weeks. W. A. Lynn, chairman of the membership committee, reported. The membership of the club now stands at nearly 300.

C. H. Lister, chairman of the Lee boulevard project committee, made his report on the project for which the club is working in cooperation with the South Fulton Civic federation and stated that he had received assurance that city and county engineers would survey the street within the next few days preparatory to reporting on the practicability of the plans.

WORKERS BARRED FROM 'JOY RIDING' IN CITY MACHINES

"Joy riding" by city employees in city-owned cars was outlawed Monday afternoon, when council voted to set up a department of transportation after a lengthy discussion of the papers as offered by Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward.

The author of the paper declared that use of city-owned machines after work hours and over week-ends has cost the city $30,000 annually in the past several years, and offered the measure as a remedy. Several department heads whose work demands that they have machines available at all hours, the fire, police and school departments were exempted from the ordinance. It will become effective July 1.

SOLVING OF FINANCIAL PROBLEM IS FORECAST

Composite Committee Expected To Arrive at Plan at Wednesday Meeting.

Evolution of a plan to finance the Atlanta public school system adequately and at the same time to provide additional revenue for the city government was seen Monday with the meeting only two days off of a special composite committee which is studying the matter. The meeting will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, of the 11th ward, and chairman of the committee, has announced that the committee would take immediate and vigorous steps to find a solution of the financial problem now facing the city and which precludes issuance of bonds until it is solved.

He declared Monday that a plan will be centered upon and recommended by the committee and that its adoption probably would hinge on city council and the people of Atlanta.

"We are going to study the matter out as best we can and expect to offer what we consider a solution of the problem," Mr. Murphy said. "When we have done that it then will pass from our hands into council and then possibly to the electorate."

In the meantime, confidence was expressed in city hall circles that Mr. Murphy's committee would evolve a workable and concrete plan for financing the schools and for obtaining more money for the city government.

A special bond committee, headed by Alderman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, is awaiting results of Mr. Murphy's committee, to recommend a $5,000,000 bond issue for municipal improvements. Plans are to submit the bond issue early this spring.

Council finance committee members on Mr. Murphy's committee, which is composed of finance committee, board of education and citizens' advisory commission members, are Mr. Murphy, Councilmen Moore, Barrett and Spratt; the board of education is represented by President Powell and Commissioners Gairns, Burns and Hancock, while the advisory commission is represented by Robert F. Maddox, W. F. Van Houten, W. J. Davis and H. Y. McCord.

EMORY DEBATERS DEFEAT FURMAN ON EASTERN TOUR

Emory university's debate team, on its eastern tour, Monday night won its first encounter against Furman university at Greenville, S. C., with a two-to-one decision. Emory was represented by Harlow Branch, Jr., Atlanta, and Robert Elliott, of Norcross. The Furman debaters were Arthur Gross and Irwin Barber.

The Emory team will encounter two other college teams on this tour, debating Davidson college tonight and Woodford college Wednesday night.

Funeral Processions Given Right-of-Way On Atlanta's Streets

Funeral processions in Atlanta in the future will receive the right-of-way over every other vehicle except fire, police and other emergency traffic, according to an ordinance approved Monday by city council.

In addition to the usual funeral signs displayed on machines, however, all cars in the funeral procession are required to have their headlights burning. The first machine shall observe traffic signals and all other vehicles, but those following will be permitted to cross even in the face of a red traffic signal lamp.

Council also voted to install a traffic signal lamp at Fair street and Capitol avenue and at Bankhead avenue and Marietta street.

Doheny, Jr., Slain by Secretary

Police said E. L. Doheny, Jr., 36, oil millionaire (left) was killed in his Los Angeles home by his secretary, T. H. Plunkett, who then ended his own life. (Associated Press telegraph photograph.)

Los Angeles, February 18.—(P)—Death certificates of murder and suicide wrote an end today to the police investigation of the killing of Edward L. Doheny, Jr., by his friend and secretary, T. H. Plunkett, who took his own life after slaying the oil magnate late Saturday night.

The family physician denied reports that the 72-year-old father, who built up the vast enterprises of which his son was given virtual control in recent years, was near death.

Demonstrating a versatility and dramatic power which have won her world-wide acclaim, Elizabeth Rethberg, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company and eminent concert performer, appeared before an Atlanta audience for the first time in four years at a concert Monday night at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium, under the auspices of the Atlanta Music club, of which Mrs. Wilmer Moore is president.

Madame Rethberg's previous performance here was with the Metropolitan Opera company. This gifted young woman, with a voice as legato and rhythmic as the perfect violin and as intensely dramatic as the medium of German, Italian, French and English music will admit, captivated Atlanta Monday night not only with her voice but with a personality which is as compelling and as irresistible as her songs. Youth is here and the enthusiasm, the spontaneity that goes with it. She gave Atlanta her best. And a capacity audience demonstrated in return its appreciation of a voice so rare.

"Ave Maria," by Schubert, wins many a group of music lovers as the crystalline, mellow tones could not fail to do at the Rethberg concert. But Atlanta proved her power of discrimination and appreciation when it gave the honors to "Gretchen am Spinnrad," by Schubert, a number infinitely more profound, more dramatic and intense, rendered with a precision and dramatic force which left little wonder that Madame Rethberg has been recognized as a singer of great volume and power whose values are true and whose climaxes ring clear and thrill with their sweetness and strength.

Opening the program Madame Rethberg sang Arias of Agatha, from "Der Freischutz," by Weber, a number which she gave in New York three years ago, bringing it before the New York public for the first time in 15 years. The French group of songs, the Old English, among which were the captivating "Papillon," by Fauriel, and "By a Lonely Forest Pathway," by Griffes, afforded expression for the change of mood which was a pleasing characteristic of the program. "Ave Maria," Schubert; "Gretchen am Spinnrad," Schubert; "Boischaft," Brahms; "Wiegenlied," Brahms; "Ständchen," Strauss; and "Vissi d'arte," from "Tosca," Puccini, brought the concert to a brilliant close. The encores included "My Long, Long Ago," Old English; "Vergiliche Standchen," Brahms; "Die Forelle," Schubert, and "Alleluia," Mozart.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT ASKED FOR HAMILTON

Under an order signed Monday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, the state will be required on Thursday to show why J. L. Hamilton, who is under indictment for criminal assault and robbery, should not be allowed bond.

The order was obtained by Len B. Guillebeau, who has been retained as attorney for Hamilton.

In his petition for bond, the defendant declares that he is entirely innocent of the charge against him. He points out that he is in danger of losing his job unless he returns to his work within the next few days that he has a wife and a mother dependent upon him, and that he has never been in jail before.

Mr. Guillebeau, who has figured as counsel in a number of hard fought criminal cases, Monday announced that he had been retained to defend Hamilton.

"The charges against Hamilton are a mistake," Guillebeau said in discussing the case. "It is just a case of mistaken identity and the presumption by the police that because Hamilton was in Merritt's company a great deal he, too, is guilty of crimes similar to those charged to Merritt."

SEVENTH FLORIDA BANK IS CLOSED IN 10-DAY PERIOD

Punta Gorda, Fla., February 18.—(P)—Seven banks have been closed in this section of the state in the last ten days, with the failure to open today of the Fidelity bank and the First National bank of Punta Gorda. The former was capitalized at $50,000 and the capitalization of the First National was for a similar sum.

G. W. Smith was president of both institutions. W. R. Sparks was cashier of the Fidelity and C. E. Smith, cashier of the First National.

Mr. Smith said the closing of the local depositories was a temporary arrangement for the purpose of protecting the interests of depositors and that a reopening would be arranged immediately.

Other banks closed include one at Sebring, two at Wauchula, and two at Avon Park.

Gov. Hardman Says Florida Has Same Marketing Trouble

Tampa, Fla., February 18.—(P)—Georgia peach growers face the same marketing difficulties as the Florida citrus men and their welfare depends on lower marketing costs, according to Governor L. G. Hardman, of Georgia, here on a vacation today.

The governor, his wife and daughter planned to go to the east coast of Florida tonight or tomorrow and to remain in the state until March 1 when they expect to leave for Washington to attend the inauguration of President-elect Herbert Hoover.

"Freight rates on Georgia fruit need adjustment and growers are fighting for their very existence in their efforts to bring this about. The Georgia growers would appreciate suggestions and cooperation from fruit men in Florida in solving their common problems," he declared.

"Interest in both states interlock and the advancement of one reacts favorably on the other," he said.

CERTIFICATE PLAN FOR CAFE WORKERS GIVEN COMMITTEE

Proposal to force all employees of restaurants, cafes and other places which vend food to exhibit certificates of physical fitness and freedom from contagious diseases was referred to the ordinance committee of city council for a hearing and perfection.

The plan would compel employees to renew certificates at the end of every four months. Councilman Joseph Berman, of the fourth ward, was author of the measure.

Another paper offered by Councilman Berman would seek to abolish ad valorem taxes in cities throughout the state and set up a sales tax instead.

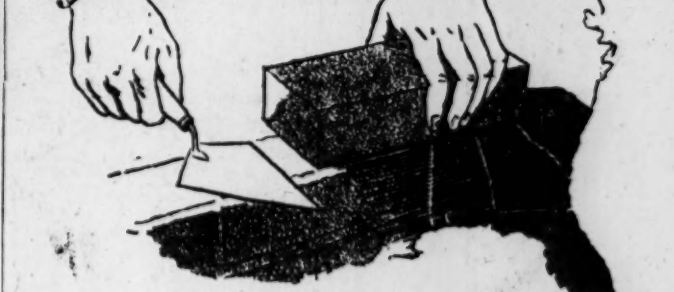

This went to the finance committee of city council for a report, after Mr. Berman and several others had declared it a solution of the financial problem facing the local city government in reducing taxes. A division of opinion occurred, however, when Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, of the 11th ward, branded a sales tax as "pernicious."

Have you all of your own teeth?

Unless you take preventive measures now, the day is coming when you may know, to your sorrow, that the true meaning of the phrase "artificial denture" is often the extravagant price of self-neglect—false teeth. Here's the reason and the way to help safe-guard health against the coming of this day.

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised, soon surrender to dread diseases that ravage health and often destroy teeth. To prevent this, avail yourself of the best care that modern dentistry offers. Place yourself in the hands of your dentist at least twice a year. And brush your gums when you brush your teeth, every morning and night.

But for this purpose—use Forhan's for the Gums... the dentifrice designed to help firm gums and keep them sound, thus protecting them from the attack of disease.

Use Forhan's regularly. You'll be delighted with the way it makes your gums look and feel. In addition, you'll notice that it effectively and safely cleans teeth and helps to protect them from decay. Get a tube of Forhan's—today!

ASSOCIATED PRESS
PAYS LAST HONOR TO MELVILLE STONE

New York, February 18.—(AP)—As the world-wide news gathering system that he had directed for more than a quarter of a century stilled its activities momentarily in his honor, funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Melville E. Stone, former general manager of the Associated Press. The services were held in the Park Avenue Baptist church here with the pastor, Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, officiating.

Burial was to have been in the family plot at Woodstock, Vt., but this morning the family was invited by Bishop James Edward Freeman, of Washington, to place the ashes in the National Cathedral at Washington. Date of burial will be decided later by the family, the Bishop and Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press.

As the hour for the services to begin struck, the chattering telegraph wires of the Associated Press network were silenced and for a minute Associated Press men all over the world stood in silent tribute.

YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Bill Providing That Deeds Be Stamped by Tax Receiver Proposed by Edwin Johnson

Charles Shelton, County Attorney, Is Asked To Prepare Measure To Present to Legislature.

Request that bills be prepared to be submitted to the Georgia legislature in June, designed to require stamping by the tax receiver of deeds before they are eligible for record, and to provide for building permits and regulations in Fulton county, was contained in a letter written Monday by Edwin F. Johnson, county tax receiver, to Charles B. Shelton, county attorney.

Another bill Mr. Johnson requested Mr. Shelton to draw would establish a business or occupation tax upon businesses in the county.

The opinion that the tax rate of Fulton county could be cut in half without an increase in the valuation now placed by the honest taxpayer on his taxable property, if every property owner would subscribe conscientiously to the oath of taxpayer takes when he makes his returns, was expressed by Mr. Johnson.

One of the proposed bills would give the tax receiver a record of who is going to pay taxes on the property, if a law is passed requiring those who buy or transfer any kind of character or property which goes to record to bring the deed or other written instrument to the office of the tax receiver to be stamped, before the deed or instrument is legally eligible to be transferred on the books of the clerk of superior court, Mr. Johnson said.

The building permit bill would require permit from the office of the tax receiver for each building costing more than $100, application for the permit to give the estimated cost, size and location of the lot, the kind and character of fire protection and sanitary facilities. "Provision should be made for inspection on completion, with particular reference to fire protection and sanitation," Mr. Johnson said. "This is especially true of apartment houses outside the city limits which have been built and are now being built without any restrictions at all as to safety or value."

Mr. Johnson said that "even a casual investigation will disclose gross inequalities in Fulton county tax returns and assessments. I have made a careful and exhaustive study of the tax digest and discovered that the owner of the small home and the owner of the small tract of land are carrying the county tax burden. Many homes have been constructed and many business enterprises have been established and yet there is no record of them in the office of the state and county tax receiver; and that in spite of the fact that many permanent and expensive streets and roads have been built by the county and paid for out of the general tax fund."

There were less than 27,000 names on the 1928 digest liable for poll tax; yet there are more than 60,000 names on the registration list supposed to be qualified to vote, Mr. Johnson said. "Also, the tax receiver took some 55,000 returns during 1928."

"If the needed legal machinery is provided, I propose to apply business methods to the office of tax receiver," he said.

Report Record Year's Business

House Passes Kelly Bill, Providing Means Shortly After Speech.

Washington, February 18.—(AP)—Shortly after Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh told house leaders today of a need for legislation to make available United States air mail service to Latin American countries, the house passed the Kelly bill to render such facilities to nations of the western hemisphere. The measure now goes to the senate.

The bill would authorize the postmaster general to enter contracts with governments, individuals and corporations for the handling of air mail to and from Central and South American countries and insular possessions. At present the American air lines planning to operate in those countries cannot receive pay for mail bound to the United States.

Colonel Lindbergh, who left here today for New York, had discussed with Representative Kelly, republican, Pennsylvania, the possibilities of expansion of air communication and transportation service throughout the Americas, and said he was greatly encouraged over the prospects as a result of his recent flight to the Canal Zone.

Representative Kelly immediately succeeded in getting the measure before the house and it was passed unanimously, before the Pennsylvania air mail bill, introduced by Colonel Lindbergh supporting the bill.

UPSHAW SUMMONED WHILE HEARING REED

Rocky Mount, Va., Bank Files Suit for Balance Claimed on Two Notes.

Washington, February 18.—(By Staff Correspondent.)—While seated in the senate gallery Saturday listening to a speech by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, exhorting dry members of congress, former Representative W. D. Upshaw, of Atlanta, was greeted by a deputy United States marshal and presented with a summons to answer a civil suit for $1,284.40. News of the summons became known here this afternoon.

Earlier in the day local attorneys had filed the suit in the district supreme court on behalf of the Peoples National Bank of Rocky Mount, Va., which claims that Upshaw owes that balance on two notes held by the bank, one of which was dated June 30, 1923, and the other June 4, 1926.

Before leaving for Atlanta Upshaw issued denial of reports published generally that his purpose in spending several days of the past week in Washington was to land an important job under the incoming Hoover administration as a reward for his activities against the democratic ticket in Georgia.

Incidental to the reports the New York World to day carries the following editorial:

"From Washington comes a dispatch to our neighbor The Times, reporting that ex-congressman Upshaw of Georgia has let his friends understand that he hopes to be named to an important government position in the Hoover administration. Mr. Upshaw is said to feel that as a militant dry and a democrat who bolted the Smith ticket he deserves recognition of some sort, and that he would be well pleased to accept a place on the prohibition fact-finding commission, which

Mr. Hoover is to name. The Times Dispatch from Washington adds: It is believed Mr. Hoover will appoint him."

"If there is any justification for this report it is not too early to write down the opinion that the fact-finding commission will be a joke. Much importance has been attached to this proposal by Mr. Hoover's friends, both during the campaign and subsequently, on the ground that it represents an intention on Mr. Hoover's part really to get at the facts in respect to prohibition. If the commission is merely to be used as a roosting place for political lame-ducks like Upshaw not much will be accomplished by creating it."

The world editorial is headed with the caption: "Upshaw Hopes for Luck."

BYRD SHIP LEAVES ON THIRD VOYAGE FOR BAY OF WHALES

Wellington, New Zealand, February 18.—(AP)—The steamer Blarney, supply ship of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, left Dunedin today on her third trip to the Bay of Whales, where the Byrd base, "Little America," is located.

The ship made full speed out of the harbor with its last load of equipment in order to avoid being imprisoned in the ice with the approach of the Antarctic winter before it should reach Commander Byrd and his men.

Heavy weather was encountered in the trip which brought the Eleanor Bolling to Dunedin.

VALUABLE CARGO OF SCOTCH MALT NABBED IN N. Y.

New York, February 18.—(AP)—Scotch malt with an estimated value of $100,000 to $150,000 was seized today by treasury department agents aboard the American Diamond Line freighter Conchoma County, docked at Hoboken.

The ship made full speed out of the harbor with its last load of equipment in order to avoid being imprisoned in the ice with the approach of the Antarctic winter before it should reach Commander Byrd and his men.

Heavy weather was encountered in the trip which brought the Eleanor Bolling to Dunedin.

PARKS COMMITTEE GIVEN AUTHORITY TO DISPOSE OF JACK

Council Monday authorized the parks committee of city council to dispose of Jack, the gray mule, granted executive clemency after he had been sentenced to execution by council at its last meeting.

Mayor I. N. Hagood sent the paper providing for his execution back to council with his veto, saying he would pay the parks department the value of the mule if council would spare him and permit some kind-hearted citizen to provide a pasture for him to pass his natural life.

Jack spent more than a dozen years in the service of the sanitary department of the city government. After he became of no service, he was to have been killed and fed to the animals at the zoo.

The mayor saved him by vetoing the paper providing for his execution.

Warm Weather To Be Followed By Frigid Rain

Sprig has cub.

So it seemed in Atlanta Monday, when Old Sol, unobscured by any cloud banks, turned a minimum of 40 degrees into a maximum of 62.

The same range probably will be in order today, according to the forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local bureau chief.

Sunny skies will continue to delight Atlantans this morning, he declared, but from about noon on, it will begin to cloud up and later in the day, there will probably be some precipitation.

After two days of reasonable flying conditions, during which schedules were maintained on practically all routes, the weather person forecasts some more murky weather for this afternoon and night—unwelcome news, indeed, for airmail operators, who have been beset by wretched weather for the better part of the past several weeks.

Incidentally, the words "Failed To Depart," which, unfortunately, appear at times in the daily schedule, and which would seem to tell a story very clearly and very concisely, often creates an erroneous impression in the mind of the public, according to one of the airmail operators at Candler field. He pointed out that while it is quite true that the airmail plane "failed to depart" from the field it also is true that in practically every case the mail is promptly dispatched by train to some nearby point along the route—where flying conditions are better—and there picked up by a waiting plane and rushed to its destination. This procedure entails a loss of only a few hours in total time, and frequently no loss at all in delivery time at the other end of the line. There are times, of course, the operator stated, when every airport along the route is bogged and the transfer from train to plane is impossible, but these are exceptions rather than the rule, he pointed out.

Visitors were few at Candler field Monday, only two "strange" planes scraping their tailskids across the tarmac during the day. A big Bellanca Wright-powered monoplane, winging its way down to Miami, where its occupants—names unknown—will visitation. So far so good, but the sequel to this will be a decided drop in temperature which will effectively remove all thoughts of spring that might have been started by the balmy weather of the past few days.

Just how decided this drop will be, Mr. von Herrmann could not say, but he pointed out that the northwest section of the country reported temperatures Monday as low as 28 below zero, while in Kansas City, the hour period preceding Monday morning, brought a drop from 22 above down to the nothing mark.

On the basis of this colder weather is indicated for Atlanta Wednesday and Thursday. It was pointed out that for once Texas was doing this area a favor since a low pressure area originating in that state was moving northeast Monday, delaying the cold wave and giving it a chance to moderate before sweeping into the southland.

WEEKLY PAYMENT ASKED BY ASHLEY FOR CITY LABORERS

Laborers employed in various departments of the city government will be paid weekly if Mayor I. N. Hagood approves a measure passed Monday by city council.

Alberrum Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, offered the paper, declaring that laborers need the weekly pay instead of the semi-monthly one recently established.

NORTHWEST WIND BRINGS NEAR ZERO TO MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, February 18.—A short-lived breath of spring which favored midwestern states over the weekend went scampering today before a northwest wind bringing near zero temperatures and possibly snow.

Decided drops in temperature were registered in corn belt states last night and continued cold was forecast for today. It was 12 below zero at Rismark, N. D., and 10 below at Williston, N. D., last night while most cities in Minnesota reported zero or below. A heavy fall of snow accompanied the drop in southern Minnesota.

Meat Market Owner, Blind, Given 60 Days To Remedy Building

R. P. Melton, blind, and bread-winner for his wife and seven children, will be given 60 days in which to change specifications on a meat shop he has erected at 414 Whitehall street under a ruling of city council Monday afternoon.

Melton erected his new place of business, but failed to make it fireproof and Monday sent a petition to council asking an extension so that he could conform to the building code in the matter. He explained that he failed to follow it through ignorance of its provisions.

Milledgeville Man Found Unconscious In Ditch Near Home

Milledgeville, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Dawson Wilson, well-known young white man, son of Bart Wilson, prominent merchant, was found unconscious in a ditch on West Hancock street, at 7 o'clock Monday morning. He had not regained consciousness late today and was in a serious condition. He left home about 8 o'clock Sunday night to go down town and was not found until this morning. Physicians say he appears to have been hit on the head with some instrument. He is prominent in fraternal circles here.

The only other visitor was a Department of Commerce Wright-motored Travelair, which arrived from New Orleans Monday morning. It is scheduled to take the air again this morning, headed for some Florida point.

Major Eddie Rickenbacker, famous American ace of world war days, and prior to that one of the world's most renowned automobile race drivers, is scheduled to be a visitor in the city for a few days beginning Thursday, it being understood that his coming has to do with automotive matters, in which he has been an outstanding figure for several years. Rickenbacker is expected to reach Atlanta by the more conservative steam railway method, but this does not mean that his interest in aviation has waned, though he does little flying now.

Baltimore, now passed over completely by airmail planes from several directions, including those on the Atlanta-New York route, is soon to have an airport costing $1,500,000, bonds to this amount already having been voted for the construction work. The airport will be built by the filling in of a narrow body of water near the city, the resultant area to be in the neighborhood of 400 acres. The plan under consideration is to have the airport suitable for use either by land planes or seaplanes and the field, according to present arrangements, will be modern and up-to-date in every way.

MUSIC CLUB CAMPAIGN NETS 1,350 MEMBERS

Mrs. Wilmer Moore, President, Says That Drive Was Great Success.

With the tabulation of results nearly complete, the number of members enrolled during last week's drive in the Atlanta Civic Music association and in the Atlanta Music club Monday night was placed at approximately 1,350 by Mrs. Wilmer Moore, president of the club. In commenting upon the drive, Mrs. Moore expressed her gratification at the result, characterized the drive as a success from every standpoint and gave assurance that the large membership insured that four concerts of outstanding worth will be brought to Atlanta during the 1929-30 season.

While no definite bookings have been made yet, Mrs. Moore indicated that a concert by a nationally famous symphony orchestra is virtually assured for next October. The wider attractions probably will consist of a violinist, a singer and pianist. These latter offerings are only tentatively suggested, Mrs. Moore explained, but stated that opinion now among the members seems to be for such a series.

Mrs. Moore stated that Miss Dema Harshbarger, of Chicago, president of the National Civic Music association, who has been in the city assisting in the organization of the local association, was enthusiastic over the reception accorded her in Atlanta. The support given her by Atlantans interested in music and by the press of the city brought much praise from Miss Harshbarger.

The membership cards issued to the members of the association insure admittance to the four concerts and to the semi-monthly morning musicals given by the music club. No tickets will be placed publicly on sale for these concerts.

Monday was a busy day for the visiting Shrine chief in Atlanta. Why Rheumatism can't be rubbed out

THOSE muscular pains, commonly called rheumatism, are generally due to a "run-down" condition, with the number of red-blood-cells below the normal count.

S.S.S. aids the system in building up these red-blood-cells and in getting rid of the condition of which the rheumatism is but a symptom. The body becomes strong and disease-resistant, and the rheumatic pains go.

Pains in your muscles and joints make you miserable, less efficient, interfere with your working-hours, ruin your sleep.

If allowed to continue, as the years pass the danger increases. But what a change with rich, red-blood-cells in your body—Nature's building material—making the flesh firm—giving strength to the vital organs.

You can't rub rheumatism out. It is deeper than that. It must be driven out. And the sure way is by helping the fighting blood—the red-blood-cells!

Increase your army of "workers" (red-blood-cells), and those muscle and joint pains, commonly called rheumatism, vanish. S.S.S. has brought this change about for thousands. Why not for you?

"Every Old-Timer knows that the HEART-LEAVES make the smoothest smoke"

"Round here in the foothills of the Blue Ridge, we've been raisin' tobacco since my grandpap was a boy. We grow the makin's for all the leading cigarettes.

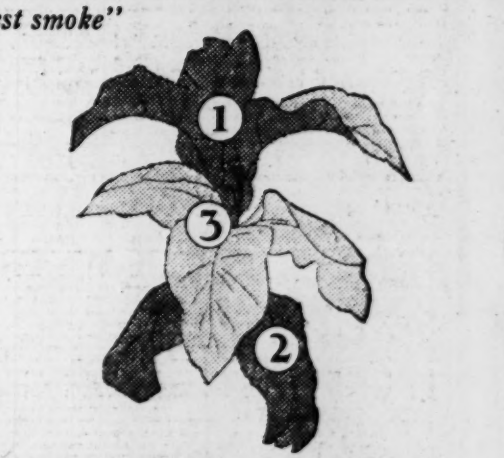

"Well, Suh, a few years ago an OLD GOLD man came through here and said: 'I don't want any of your sleazy ground-leaves. I don't want any of your gummy top-leaves. I only aim to buy your heart-leaves. And I'll pay the price.'

"Now every old-timer, down in his heart, knows that the top and bottom leaves may bite the throat. And he knows that the heart-leaves make the smoothest smoke.

"But when the OLD GOLD people demanded the heart-leaves, that was something new in these diggin's. That's how OLD GOLD became the throat-easy cigarette... that's where 'not a cough in a carload' came from."

More Arrests Expected in Alleged Slaying of Husband as He Slept; Planned Divorce, State Claims

Americus, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Belle Copeland, held in jail here on a charge of murder in connection with the recent death of Oscar Grantham, was released from custody this morning on motion of Solicitor-General Hollis Fort.

In allowing the release of Mrs. Copeland, it was stated that the state had been unable to piece together bits of evidence which it was thought would connect her with Grantham's death at the time of her arrest.

In the case of Mrs. Idell Grantham, widow of the dead man, however, it is said that new and startling evidence has been discovered and new arrests may be expected within the next few days.

Nine years of tempestuous married life, marked by many scenes of domestic unhappiness and crowned by an interrupted "petting" party in which Grantham, now dead, is said to have surprised his wife and an American youth, form the background of the case being built up by the state against the accused widow.

Following the release of Mrs. Copeland today an agreement was entered between Judge James A. Hixon, representing Mrs. Grantham, and Hollis Fort, solicitor-general, placing the two young children of Mrs. Grantham in custody of Grantham's father, T. V. Grantham, of Jessup, subject to any future order of the courts. The children have been in the care of a neighbor since their mother's arrest.

Other evidence to be presented by the state includes the absence of powder burns upon the body of Grantham, though his widow declares he shot himself while lying in bed with her during the still hours of the night.

Following the release of Mrs. Copeland today an agreement was entered between Judge James A. Hixon, representing Mrs. Grantham, and Hollis Fort, solicitor-general, placing the two young children of Mrs. Grantham in custody of Grantham's father, T. V. Don't Neglect a Cold Now, is Doctor's Advice

Don't neglect any cold nowadays. Colds are so weakening; and in a weakened condition, you are so susceptible to more serious troubles.

When you find you are catching cold, take care to keep the bowels open. That's the first precaution every doctor advises. That's the way to avoid the congestion which makes you feverish, achy, half-sick, miserable.

Millions know the quick way to open the bowels, keep them active, in a weakened condition, you are so susceptible to more serious troubles. Every second of the day someone, somewhere is going into a drug store to get a bottle of this splendid medicine, made from simple laxative herbs and pepsin by the formula Doctor Caldwell found so effective during his 47 years' medical practice.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin is mild and gentle in its action but it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution. Containing neither narcotics or opiates, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it gladly.

For colds, fevers, biliousness, indigestion, headaches, heartburn, nausea, and sleep, loss of sleep—any trouble caused by poor digestion or faulty evacuation. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin will prove a blessing.

It's overwhelming success and popularity is based on real merit—on one satisfied user telling another. Your drug store sells the generous bottles on a positive money-back guarantee to give satisfaction.—(adv.)

The Company maintains on deposit with United States Trustees approved securities in excess of the net liability to American policyholders.

Total investments in United States' securities exceed $225,000,000.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

... After deducting amounts re-assured, the total assurances in force now amount to $1,896,915,934.57, an increase of $408,925,254.48. Policies in force number 633,240, and in addition, 136,293 certificates of assurance are held by employees of corporations and firms under the group plan.

While every field of operation contributed its full share to these impressive advances, the rapid development of our business in Great Britain and the United States is especially noteworthy. The generous reception of our Company in countries served by powerful domestic institutions is particularly gratifying, as testifying to widespread appreciation of our record and services.

... The amount paid to policyholders since organization, together with the amount at present held for their security or benefit, exceeds the total amount received from them in premiums by $111,370,229.10.

The strength and resources of the Company have been still further enhanced.

The net rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets, after making provision for investment expenses, has risen to 6.58 per cent. Dividend increases, bonuses, and stock privileges, accruing on many of the Company's holdings, contributed substantially to this gratifying result.

A net profit of $11,028,854.59 has been realized from the redemption or sale of securities which had risen to high premiums.

The securities listed in the assets have been valued at figures substantially below the values placed on them by the Government. This undervaluation of our securities represents an important safeguard against possible adverse market fluctuations, additional to the reserves specifically provided against that contingency.

We are again able to report that on the bonds and preferred stocks listed in the assets not one dollar, due either as interest or as dividend, is in arrear for a single day; while the dividends accruing to common stocks exceed by several million dollars those payable on the same stocks at the time of purchase.

The surplus earned during the year, based on the values given in the accounts, amounted to $40,264,088.52.

$10,000,000. has been deducted from the already heavily marked-down value of securities, as additional provision against possible fluctuations, increasing the amount so set aside to $20,000,000.

The special amount set aside as a liability to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been maintained at $12,500,000.

$15,822,339.65 has been paid or allotted as profits to policyholders during the year.

After making all deductions and allocations, $9,157,966.34 has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over liabilities, contingency accounts, and capital stock to $54,438,862.48.

The continued prosperity of the Company enables your Directors to announce, for the ninth successive year, a substantial increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to participating policyholders during the ensuing year.

In addition, your Directors have inaugurated the principle of granting a Special Dividend on participating policies maturing after having been in force ten years or longer. This new bonus will enable policyholders or beneficiaries whose withdrawal is occasioned by the maturity of policy contracts, to participate in the accumulated surplus which it has not as yet been considered prudent to divide.

The effort to provide life assurance at the lowest net cost obtainable has been increasingly appreciated. Our policyholders will be gratified by this further evidence of our desire that the Company's prosperity shall be fully shared by its members.

"One thing my daughter must be told"

—Says a mother of today

The possibility of offending others, is dreaded by thousands of women. Now a discovery which neutralizes odor in sanitary pads* frees them from this fear.

HOWEVER carefully she may guard and advise, no mother can protect her daughter from self-consciousness at certain times. If she fears that she is offending others, good times are impossible. Light-heartedness flies. That is why mothers and daughters both learn with relief about the latest process perfected by Kotex scientists. Each Kotex sanitary pad is now treated to end all odor. The fears that were once inevitable now disappear.

Shaped to fit, too

Because corners of the pad are rounded and tapered, it may be worn without evidence under the most clinging gown.

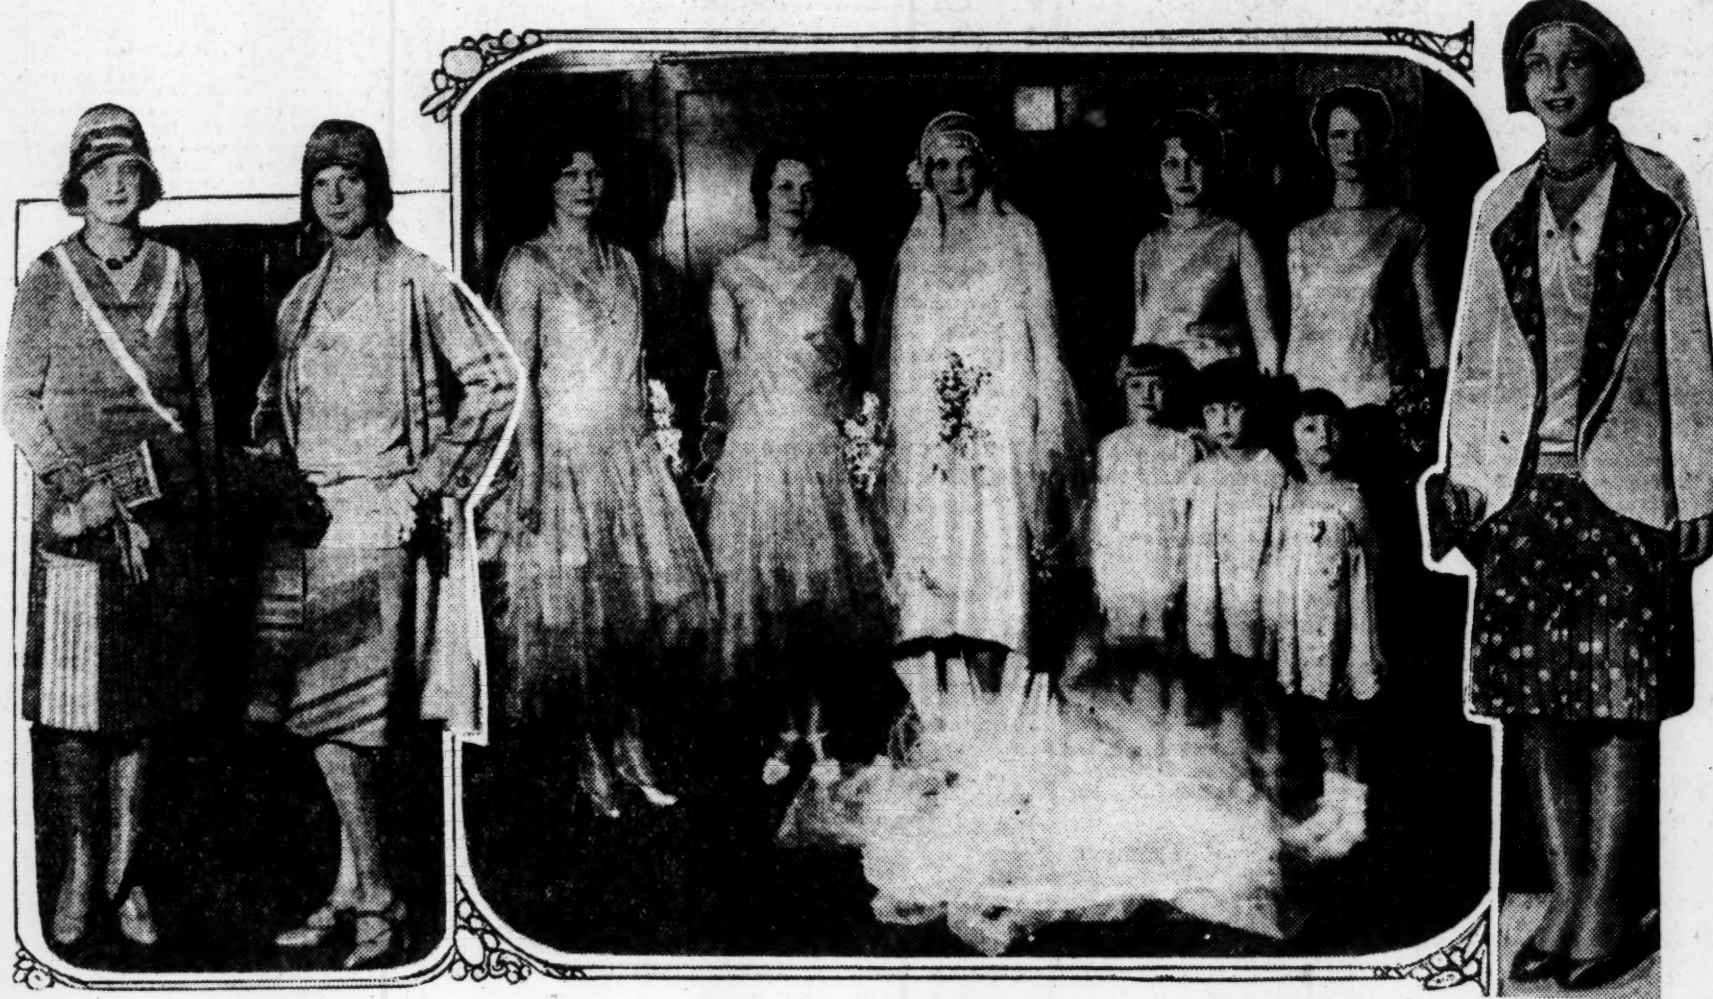

There is none of that conspicuous bulkiness so often associated with old-fashioned methods. And you can adjust the filler, make it thinner, thicker, narrower—to suit your own special needs. It is easily disposed of, no laundering is necessary. A new process makes it softer than ever before.

Buy a box today. . . 45¢ for a box of twelve. On sale at all drug, dry goods and department stores; also, through vending cabinets in rest-rooms.

*Kotex is the only sanitary pad that deodorizes by patented process. (Patent No. 1,270,187, granted May 22, 1920.)

Sartorial Splendor Intended for Forthcoming Spring Season Revealed at J. P. Allen & Company's Fashion Revue

The photograph presents the models exhibiting the spring styles at the fashion show staged last evening on the second floor of J. P. Allen & Company, and to be repeated this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and this evening at 8 o'clock. Reading from left to right they are Jerry Shuford, Frances Banks, posed in sports costumes; Arminda Nation, Mary Brewer, Jerry Shuford, the bride, Elizabeth Watson and Frances Banks, with the three little maids, Catherine Dittich, Betty Berdi, and Jean Calhoun, forming the bridal party; and Jessie Lee Barnes at the extreme right wearing a smart ensemble. Photographs by William Mason.

BY ANNIE LOU HARDY.

Sartorial splendor, indicating the tendencies for the forthcoming spring season was revealed at J. P. Allen & Co.'s fashion revue last evening, held at 8 o'clock on the second floor of the Peachtree street emporium amid a Spanish garden setting with lighting orchestral musical selections played for each mannequin to keep time with exquisitely shod feet while promonting down the length of the oyster-colored runway, upon which was turned a powerful spotlight. Little Misses Harriett Reid and Mary Lee Davison acted as the captivating paces and carried the cards announcing the special costumes to be shown, wearing peg-top trousers of white satin, tight-fitting black satin coats buttoned in front with rhinestones, while the name "Allen" was embroidered across their black satin caps.

Out-tripped graceful, stylish Jerry Shuford, clad in a stunning two-piece sporter suit of Nile green crepe, the blouse trimmed with two curved, stitched bands of chartreuse and egg shell crepe, these two colors being introduced at the side of the pleated crepe skirt, as shown in the above photograph. Her ballroom straw hat was banded in Nile green, red and chartreuse and her hose and shoes of sunburn kid completed the costume. Again she appeared in a black Chantilly lace gown veiling blonde satin, the lace hemline dipping towards the back and the bolero jacket being outlined with rhinestones, a belt of this same trimming finishing the long waistline. The black chiffon velvet wrap drawn closely around her figure was flowered in roses and lined with rose crepe.

The fresh young beauty of Jessie Lee Barnes, at the extreme right of the group above, is emphasized by the chic ensemble from Allen's junior shop combining off-white foulard with printed foulard, one of fashion's favorite materials, the bright sparkling blue background being sparsely scattered with figures of red, white and blue. The hip-length coat of off-white, lined with the printed foulard, is especially becoming to the youthful figure, the off-white material being repeated in the smart blouse which is worn with a knife-pleated skirt of the printed material. Deep lapels of the tuxedo front, featured by the coat, reveal the blue printed lining and a smart ballroom hat in the same shade of blue, featuring sharply off the face, completed the ensemble. A flat, envelope bag in blue leather and black patent leather pumps, worn with sheer McCallum silk hose of the popular sunburn shade were other charming accessories. She presented a perfect bathing beauty picture in a gray and blue jersey hench suit, the blue trousers being topped with a gray bodice cut low in the back to admit of taking on a coveted coat of tan and a gray silk handkerchief bound her dark brown hair. The gray jersey cape was bordered with the same shade of blue as the trousers and her little feet were shod in blue rubber bath shoes.

Ravishing coral colored beach pajamas vied with those developed in tones of blue and oftentimes a figured black chiffon velvet coat was worn by the model over the pajamas. Sub-debs will have a chance to go into ecstasies over the coat dress of tan crepe shot with white, the tucked-in blouse of white crepe worn with a pleated skirt, finished with a brown suede belt at the waistline, while huge kid shoes and a huge felt hat offset the chicness of the ensemble. Biege lace formed the waist and a part of the skirt of the evening gown enveloping the figure in fetching ensemble of modernistic blue jersey, the coat opening over a blue and white striped sweater, the skirt being pleated, while the blue haku straw hat was banded in grosgrain ribbon. Jeannette Young's red and black cotton broadcloth coat covered a white pique frock which was belted with the same material as the coat, and Betty Verdie's box coat of navy blue English broadcloth was worn with a pleated skirt of white crepe, while a snowy white felt beret topped her blonde head. Catherine Marie Dittich was outfitted in an imported frock of white crepe with insets of yellow and green crepe on the skirt and the loveliest of yellow flannel skirt bordered in designer flowers to correspond with the hat. The envy of the other boys viewing the style show was unmistakably directed towards the Prince of Wales cap worn by Billy Ingram, whose white English broadcloth suit was topped by a flannel blazer striped in white and orange.

A handsome Mangone model, developed entirely in the tones of sun-tan, and worn by Mrs. Herbert Hayek, was outstanding among the ensembles. The becoming straight line coat of a soft woolen material was colored in luxurious sun-tan and worn with a smartly tailored crepe frock and a close fitting felt hat in the same shade of sunburn. A more colorful costume was worn by Hayek featured a two-piece model of flat crepe in rich butter yellow, bordered in a design of bonbons and edged with a band of blue. The finely finished skirt bordered in designer lengths, with a blue scarf collar and a blue suede belt studded in gold finishing the long blouse. Worn with the stunning outfit was a blue ballroom hat, hose of sunburn shade and blue kid slippers matching the border of the gown.

Gray is Popular.
Peggy Reese appeared in a sports costume of gray crepe, the skirt finely decorated with the blouse executed with bands of butter yellow and bonbons. Another introduction of gray was found in a two-piece sports costume worn by Lorraine Williamson, and combining bonbons crepe with insertions of gray and lipstick red.

Rodier materials continue to be popular for separate coats for spring, the design often following the modernistic trend and combining shades of tan, orange, gray and black. One particularly attractive model featured indistinct stripes in these tones going round the figure, the coat being severely tailored and untrimmed.

A garden party frock of unusual appeal was developed in flowered chiffon with an orchid background, the front of the skirt admitting a long, triangular drape of solid orchid chiffon, with graceful wing-like draperies falling from each shoulder and extending to the hemline in the back. A picture hat of hyacinth blue transferred hair, the wide brim appliqued with small Dresden shaded flowers, was an important adjunct to the costume.

Miss Hopkins Speaks.
Every hat worn in the revue was a perfect complement to the gown it accompanied and was selected from the smart millinery salon on the third floor of the Allen emporium. The slippers worn were also selected from Allen's exclusive specialty shoe shop, the rendezvous of fastidious Atlanta women who demand always to be well-shod. Only the shrewdest silk hose of the famous McCallum brand were used in the revue, an added attraction being the presence of Miss Isabel Hopkins, style consultant for McCallum hose, who gave a brief talk on the smartness of the ensemble idea in 1920 fashions, sketching the part silk hose play in the correctly assembled costume.

Wedding Scene.
The brilliant revue was brought to a climax by the presentation of a beautifully costumed bridal party, headed by the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by the orchestra. The four bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth Watson, Arminda Nation, Frances Banks and Mary Brewer, as seen in the central group above, were gowned alike in fluffy creations of point d'esprit posed over taffeta slips, two wearing fandangos yellow and the other two appearing in bonnibon, these new shades assuming the roles of favorites in the recent revue staged by the National Retail Garment association at the Hotel Astor in New York. The full skirts of the gowns, built in tiers, were attached to the long, plain bodices at the low waistlines, a row of small, airy butterfly bows, beginning on the right shoulder extending down the back to the hemline of the uneven skirt. A cluster of gardenias in shades of peach and rose formed an effective finish at the waistline on the left side of the bridesmaids' gowns, the

WHEN SHE GETS UP FEELING DULL, SHAKY
This Lady Says She Takes Dose of Black-Draught To Remove the Cause of Trouble and Prevent Sickness.

Leicester, N. C.—"We have used Black-Draught in our home over a period of twenty-five years or longer, and it is a tried and true friend," says Mrs. Catharine Mears, of this place.

"Every member of the family takes it."

"I have never found any other medicine which could take the place of Black-Draught. A dose of it, taken every so often, prevents constipation and dizziness."

"As I have gotten older, I have found that one of the quickest ways to get sick is to allow constipation to develop. At my age, it comes quickly, and I have to be careful."

"Black-Draught is my stand-by. If I get up feeling dull and shaky, I take a small dose to remove the cause. I cheerfully recommend it to others, for I have found it a great medicine for family use."

Constipation damps up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms.

Thousands of letters from users of Theodor's Black-Draught, on file at the laboratories where Black-Draught is made, testify to the high esteem in which it is held for the relief of constipation and attend at ill.

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"
The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home-made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded. (adv.)

Deodorizes . . . and 4 other important features:

2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown.
3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process.
4—Adjust it to your needs; filler may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required, and 5—It is easily disposed of; no unpleasant laundry.

Entertaining Program.
An interesting program of songs and dances rendered by Miss Freida Sullivan and talented pupils from Miss Virginia Semor's classes was interpolated between the numbers of the revue.

The most alluring costumes from New York's famous couturiers, including gowns from Pauline, Joyce, Blouet Jackson, Fashionbitch and Gershel; ensembles and coats from Philip Mangone, Del-Monte Hickey and Gershel; copies of imports from exclusive French houses, such as Rose Decot and Valois, all passed in kaleidoscopic review while merrily sat entranced and fascinated, the visions of loveliness awakening in her that quick response of the eternal feminine—the passionate love and desire for pretty clothes, and lots of them.

The doors of the Allen store are frequently to the general public for both performances of the revue this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and again at 8 o'clock this evening on the second floor of the new store at Peachtree and Cain streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Give Dinner Party for Prominent Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunsicker, notable visitors from Allentown, Pa., were honor guests at the elaborate dinner party given Monday evening by their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline, at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country club. The beautifully-appointed table presented a springtime loveliness in its artistic floral decoration, early spring flowers being used in graceful abundance. A large Marie Antoinette basket filled with jonquils, tulips, snapdragons, calendulas, freesia, leather hyacinths, sweet peas and roses graced the center of the table. Smaller baskets of these lovely flowers were arranged at either end of the table with Louis XVI candelabras holding yellow tapers arranged between the graceful baskets. The novel and original place cards designating the place of each guest added much merriment to the occasion, the covers being marked by huge peanuts, symbolic of the honor guests' home city, Allentown, Pa., which is known throughout the east as "Peanut Town," deeming its nickname from the large peanut roasting industries in that city.

Mrs. Kline wore an exquisite gown of aster-colored point de esprit, the skirt fashioned of tiers of this filmy material and the corsage introducing the deep V-neckline. Mrs. Hunsicker's lovely gown was of black tulle in bouffant effect, and embroidered in white wool and silver.

Invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Hunsicker were Judge and Mrs. Luther Rosser, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hamowell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis, Mr. and

Many other social gaieties will revolve around Mr. and Mrs. Hunsicker with Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Moore's dinner given in compliment to these visitors Tuesday evening at their home on Peachtree road, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leroux have planned their party for Mr. and Mrs. Hunsicker at the Billmore Wednesday evening, February 21. After concluding their visit to Mr. and Mrs. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Hunsicker will depart from Atlanta on a trip to Havana.

1929 Belles
Are Not Fat*They end the excess in this easy way

Twenty years ago excess fat was common. Few people of 40 escaped it. Not so today. Slender figures are the rule. All ideas of style and beauty are opposed to fat. This great change started when science discovered the chief cause of obesity. It lies in an under-active gland. A way was found to correct this deficiency, and multitudes employed it. This factor was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for over 20 years—millions of boxes of them. That is one great reason for the slender figures you see everywhere today. Marmola is not secret. Each box contains the formula and the reasons for results. No abnormal exercise or diet is required. Simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Try this method if you over-weight. Watch the new health and vigor which come when the excess fat departs. Then you will know why so many people, for many years, have urged friends to use Marmola. Go start at once.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THE MOUSE FAMILY IS BROKEN UP.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Change you'll find a law of life brought about by endless strife. —Danny Meadow Mouse.

"Did you ever see anything like this?" said Nanny Meadow Mouse to Danny. "I never did," replied Danny. "Why, they're only a month old and are nearly as big as we are now. There is no doing anything with them. They know all there is to know. Only this evening I found one of them sitting on top of the snow out beyond the haystack. It is a wonder that Spooky the Screech Owl hadn't been along. But I could not tell him anything. No, sir, I couldn't tell him anything. He knew it all. He told me he was quite capable of taking care of himself."

"I know," said Nanny. Most folks think babies are a great care, but I think half-grown children are a greater care. And I don't know but they are more trouble still when they are quite grown. It seems to me they are very different from what they were when you and I were young, Danny."

Danny nodded his head in agreement. "They certainly are," said he. "They have lost all respect for their elders. They don't know what obedience is and you cannot tell them anything at all. Well, I suppose times are changing."

Nanny had just opened her mouth to reply when something happened. There was a great noise outside. The haystack began to rock above their heads. Danny and Nanny forgot about the children. They crept into their home and crowded close together while they listened. They knew what the sounds were. The sounds were the voices of the two-legged creatures called men. But what could be happening they couldn't imagine. No, sir, they couldn't imagine what could be happening. Somehow, it seemed as if their little world were coming to an end.

Suddenly they felt themselves being picked up. Their whole home was being picked up. They could do nothing but cling to each other. It was very upsetting, to say the least. And yet there was something familiar about the experience. Danny groped about in his mind trying to think what it was. Finally it came to him. By this time things had become quiet again, but they had the feeling that somehow the whole world was moving.

"Do you remember the time we built our home in the corn shock?" whispered Danny.

"Yes," replied Nanny, "what of it?"

"Do you remember how Farmer Brown's Boy came down and got the corn and our home with it and carried us off up to the big barn?" continued Danny.

"Yes," replied Nanny.

"Well, don't you have something of the same feeling now?" demanded Danny.

Nanny gave a startled little squeak. "Oh, my goodness, it's as true as you live!" she exclaimed. "You don't suppose we are being carried off, do you?"

"I don't know," replied Danny. "Time will tell. Anyway, I guess we've seen the last of the children. I guess the family is broken up. It's probably a good thing for them and

Mrs. Blakeman
Honored at Bridge
At Ft. McPherson

Fort McPherson, February 18.—Major and Mrs. Roland Gaugler were hosts at bridge last evening in their quarters in the garrison in honor of their mother, Mrs. Robert Blakeman, of Barbourville, Ky., and Mrs. M. J. Seals, of Birmingham, Ala. The reception rooms were fragrant with bowls and vases of spring flowers with jonquils, hyacinths and sweet peas in a riot of beauty. The small tables where the guests were seated reflected the pastel shades in their covers of deep rose, yellow, lavender and blue and flesh, while tall yellow tapers placed around the rooms shed a melon glow. The honorees were presented with hand-made chignon handkerchiefs in dainty colors as souvenirs of the occasion. The high score prize for the fortunate contestant was Mrs. Blakeman's latest book on bridge, which she just had released from the press, while the lady's prize was an evening handkerchief of chiffon in pink with pastel flowers, and the gentleman who held high score was awarded a set of pongee handkerchiefs. Major and Mrs. Gaugler included in their guest list 20 members of the military contingent.

Major and Mrs. Hans R. W. Herzog entertained informally at tea at their home on Fourteenth street Sunday afternoon, including in their guest list a limited number of the army social set. The tea table was graced with an exquisite Dresden figure and

Fumble Dead at Point of Recovery, Grid Officials Rule

G. M. A Cadets Are Crowned City Prep Basketball Champions

Other Changes Made by Body At New York

Kicks and Passes Come in for Discussion at Secret Meet of Grid Committee.

BY TED VOSBURGH.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, February 18.—(AP)—The well-known crime of fumbling has been reduced from a felony to a mere misdemeanor in the statute books of football.

The national football rules committee announced today adoption of a new provision of more than ordinary import, which makes a fumbled ball recovered by the defensive side dead at the point of recovery. Possession of the ball under such circumstances will still be lost by the fumbling team, but gone will be the heartache of seeing an opportunist ball-hawk on the other side tear through a clear field to a touchdown.

No Fault of Team.
In announcing the change the committee stated it took into consideration "the fact that in the great majority of cases the actual fumble of the ball is the error of a single player and not the fault of the team as a whole; also the fact that loss of the ball by reason of a fumble is generally considered to be equivalent to the loss of about 40 yards, namely the distance lost by the fumble itself plus the average distance of a punt—say 35 yards, the opportunity for which has been lost by reason of the fumble."

This rule will not apply in case of forward passes nor to backward passes which are intercepted before striking the ground, nor will it apply to blocked kicks which will be played as hitherto, it was emphasized.

Four Major Changes.
Of the four rule changes, all important, which were announced as the result of a secret session of the gridiron legislators in the seaside seclusion of Absecon, N. J., last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, a second similarly barred the door against some of the sad consequences of a fumbled kick, whereas the rules of 1928 provided that when a player fumbled in the act of receiving a punt, the ball is dead at the point of recovery by the opposing team, the revised code lists all kinds of fumbles in the same category—kicks, placekicks and drop kicks as well as punts.

By a third rule, which came as a complete surprise to most outsiders, the position from which the try for point after touchdown is to be made was moved from the three to the two-yard line in the hope that the try for the extra point may more often constitute a triple threat play. A line play or a pass may now be expected as well as the conventional kick, in the rulemakers' opinion.

Deciding that restrictions upon the use of the "screened" forward pass which were adopted in 1928 were not sufficient, the committee's fourth revision amplifies the rule to provide that no player of a side attempting a forward pass "who has crossed the line of scrimmage shall either before or after the pass has been made interfere with an opponent until the ball has been touched except in an actual attempt to catch the ball. Except on passes completed behind the line of scrimmage, such players as are ineligible shall be penalized for interference, if they in any way obstruct the right of way of defensive players."

In Case of Doubt.
"In case of doubt as to such interference," the rule adds parenthetically, "the penalty shall be inflicted." The only other legislation was adoption of a provision under which secondary schools may be permitted "a more liberal practice in the matter of substitutions than that allowed under the standard rules," by mutual agreement of the teams.

On the many other possible rule changes suggested in various quarters, the gridiron legislators took no action.

The proposal for eliminating the second half kickoff which has been advocated on the ground that not one game but two in the guise of one are now being played, did not come up at all.

A suggestion that points be scored for first downs made, which at one time was advocated by Glenn Warner, Stanford coach, was met with laughter, a committee member said, and was not considered.

Moving the goal posts back 10 yards to their position was discussed but found no warm advocate.

In addition to the members of the rules committee of which Edward K. Hall, of New York, a Dartmouth graduate, is chairman, seven others were present by invitation. Knute Rockne, Notre Dame; Bill Alexander, Georgia Tech; Hugo Bezdek, Penn State; and Warner, represented the football coaches, and Walter R. Olson, Lehigh; F. A. Lamber, Ohio State; and A. W. Palmer, Colby, the officials.

He May Do It.
Babe Ruth hopes to have his home run total for the big leagues well over 500 at the end of 1929. He now has 470.

Heigh-Ho!

THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL rules committee has "went and done it." The rule makers declared the fumble dead at point of recovery. Alas and likewise alack! The national football rules committee would have lived just as long and been just as highly respected if it had not changed that rule.

The members of that committee believe they have done a service to the game in changing that fumble rule. Maybe they have. If so, our apologies are in order. But just at the present writing your correspondent is firmly convinced that the time spent by the committee in changing this rule would have been better spent at a good night club.

WHO ARE WE to question their action? Oh yes, who ARE we? Just one of the spectators who go to see the football games and sometimes write something about them. And we are among the spectators who believe the game is, or should be, played mostly FOR the spectators. They pay the bills.

Making the fumble dead at point of recovery subtracts from football one of its greatest thrills and after all most of the folks in the stand pay their money to be thrilled. Sometimes when the local hero does the fumbling and the visiting fireman romps to a touchdown the thrill is somewhat negative but it is still there.

FOOTBALL'S GAIN in popularity is based largely upon the fact that the game has been made more thrilling with the changes of rules. The development of the forward pass was a great step and the lateral pass rule was a great aid but this latest ruling is a step in the other direction.

From the field there will come arguments for the new rule. "The old rule made the penalty for a fumble too severe," they will say. They will say a lot of things in favor of the change but to the spectator, the man who pays the bills, these arguments will not appeal. Heigh-ho! The deed is done but it wasn't done with the aid of John Q. Public's vote.

Just a Hint.

HAVING JUST REGISTERED a futile kick against something we may know very little about we might strike a balance by entering a happy word for something we do know something about. Our reference is to the very comely musical comedy now playing at the Erlanger theater.

"Rio Rita" is a most enthralling spectacle and it appeals not only to the ears but to the eyes. It is one of the finest shows to hit Atlanta since "The Vagabond King." Those who saw that great musical production know that George Wintz can produce and "Rio Rita" has many things the other great Wintz production did not have, namely, more tersichorean art and more pulchritude.

IT IS ONLY OCCASIONALLY that this column deserts the realm of sports long enough to say a word for the stage but in this case it is justified. "Rio Rita" is unquestionably a great show. Far better than Atlanta usually gets and worth seeing. This is not a theater criticism. We leave that to those who know that line. It is just a hint from a guy who likes a show or doesn't like it and seldom knows just why. We like this one.

News of Baseball

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., February 18.—(AP)—Spring training, or the serious business of spring training for the rest of the National league flag seekers, stretched today before the Chicago Cubs.

Manager Joe McCarthy, more optimistic than ever that the league pennant will be the property of the Cubs this year, ordered his charges to turn out today for the initial workout, a light one serving only to loosen up.

The pitchers and catchers will have something more than two weeks of hard work before the Cubs hook up in their first exhibition game on March 8. That early date gives the thirteen players of players, scheduled to arrive February 26, only a short time to find batting eyes, but the infielders and outfielders will have at least 10 days of drilling before the first spring game.

BOSTON PITCHERS, CATCHERS WORK OUT.
St. Petersburg, Fla., February 18.—(AP)—Pitchers and catchers of the Boston Braves had their annual initiation to Florida sunshine this morning as they stepped through their first workout of the training season.

The advance squad of eight pitchers, three catchers and an infielder arrived here yesterday accompanied by Evers and Gowdy and several Boston newspapermen.

The main squad of regulars will be here February 28, although several players, including George Sisler, Walter Gaudreau and probably Walter Maranville, will be on deck for an early start in the training grind this week.

WELSH AGREES TO GIANT TERMS.
New York, February 18.—(AP)—Oakland Jimmy Welsh, star outfielder of the New York Giants, reported to have been among the holdouts, came to terms today and will sign a contract when he reaches camp at San Antonio. Manager McGraw announced today on his return from a vacation in Havana.

McGraw said he expects to settle satisfactorily contract differences with Fred Lench, outfielder obtained from the Phillies, and disclosed that Garland Buckeye, big southpaw, will be released to Toledo for 1929.

DUGAN HOLDING OUT ON BRAVES.
St. Petersburg, Fla., February 18.—(United News)—Joe Dugan, veteran third baseman purchased by the Boston Braves from the New York Yankees, is a holdout, according to the information reaching Judge Emil Fuchs, president-manager of the Braves, here today. Judge Fuchs said Dugan and the Braves evidently could not come to an agreement and that Lester Bell would play third base again this season.

Thirteen players worked out here today under the direction of Assistant Managers Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy. Judge Fuchs watched the players closely but did not see a uniform.

27 PLAYERS SIGN WITH CINCINNATI.
Cincinnati, February 18.—(AP)—Twenty-seven players have signed contracts with the Cincinnati baseball club. C. J. McDiarmid, president, said today. Salary differences exist only with a few men and these are expected to be settled before the Reds start for the spring training camp at Orlando, Fla., a week from today, he said.

The status of Wally Pipp, the Reds' first baseman and former Yankee star, is expected to be determined tomorrow at a conference with Joe Carr, president of the Columbus American Association club, owned by Cincinnati. The Reds propose to use George Kelly at first this season and Wally may be offered a place on the Columbus team.

College Park Five Outplays Rival Cagers

Pund, Young Brother of Former Tornado Leader, Stars as Mates Win.

BY D. A. HALLMAN.
Georgia Military academy yesterday afternoon won the city prep basketball championship by wrecking the Tech High Smithies, 58 to 27.

Brilliant basketball won for the Cadets—that and 40 minutes of ball hawking such has never before been seen in Atlanta high school circles. The star of the game was Pund, G. M. A. guard, and brother of Peter Pund.

Mott and company played good basketball, the same brand which has carried them to victories over all city teams, including two over G. M. A., in pre-tournament contests. But Mott and all his cohorts couldn't stop the well-coached Cadet quintet, which took the ball when it wanted it (i. e., all the time) and shot when and how it desired (j. e., all the time).

Hackney, Cadet center, was opposed to English, who topped him by three inches, but English got the tip-off not once during the first half. In the second period, Hammond tried and Hammond got it a couple of times before Hackney really started jumping. Callis went in at center but he never had a chance, being only six inches taller than the College Park youth.

Pund Is Star.
The general reason for Tech High's low score was the G. M. A. team, the explicit reason was Pund. He block-batted in the air shots which seemed certain of tallying; he took the ball from dribblers; he grabbed it off the backboard just as often as the ball came off, and anything else that happened to come up, he did that, too.

The reason the Cadets' score was so large was a combination of Pittman, Clark, Hackney and Shepard, with the above mentioned aid of Pund. Suddath, another Cadet guard, contributed considerably to the cause also as did Pengler, who went in in the second half.

Buster Mott has been in the habit of shooting long ones all season and G. M. A. blames him for two previous defeats this year. Yesterday Buster got a long one in the first minute of play, and added another two minutes later. He got no more during the game, principally because of Hackney, who gave the Smithies a considerable personal attention during the tilt. Mott did score a free shot on a technical foul in the last period, but what few shots he did make were consumed in such a hurry and from such distance that he never had a chance.

Chandler Is Checker.
As for Chandler, star Smithy guard, who has been rapping them in from all angles this year, he didn't make a field goal during the game, a free toss being his total. English was high scorer for Tech High with 19 points, and those were the result of crisp shots made on several of the few occasions the Cadet defense faltered.

G. M. A. flashed an impregnable defense. Playing the five-man zone variety, the Cadets kept Smithy forwards at a distance throughout and took the ball out of danger time and again before the losers could even get a shot at the hoop.

G. M. A. scored on a triple play from the tipoff as the game began. Hackney to Clark to Pittman. The Smithies looked on for two previous counts with an easy shot, but Clark showed the Cadets two points ahead. Then Buster Mott scored his four points, but in the next minute the Cadets had gone ahead on Pittman's free toss and Hackney's goal. English made the score 7 to 6 in favor of G. M. A. by hooking a crisp toss. Shepard tossed a long one as the quarter ended, 9 to 6.

Shapard and Pittman. Shepard and Pittman hooked three free tosses between them, Clark sunk a fast one and added its double, then dropped a free shot. Hackney made the score, G. M. A. 19, Tech High 6. Tech High, but Pittman added two in succession before Chandler made a free toss. Suddath made the score 25 to 11 at the half.

Tech High expected G. M. A. to stall in the third quarter, and started out with a free shot by Mott and another basket by English. Then the Cadets went into action. Shapard shot two fouls Clark sunk a goal Shepard and dropped in two more from the floor and Pittman raised the Cadet total to 37 points. Hammond sunk a distance affair and Shepard got right, sinking seven points in a row before English made a free toss. Callis cut the score to 19 to 42 by a pretty shot, but Hackney and Clark made the score 46 to 19 at the half.

Shapard made a couple more free shots and Clark sunk three goals from the floor before Davis scored for Tech High. Pittman hit the basket, and Payne got two fast goals and two free shots. Pittman ended the scoring by sinking an easy one.

Georgia Plans To Fete Tech Cage Quintet

Largest Crowd of Year Will See Two Rivals Clash This Week at Athens.

BY BOB SHERROD.
Athens, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) The Georgia Bulldogs enter the twilight of the current scheduled basketball season Tuesday night when they meet the Clemson Tiger who threw a monkey wrench into the Red and Black machinery last week in the South Carolina city. The close of the official season comes Saturday evening when the Tech Yellow Jackets, conference leaders, battle with Coach Stegeman's five in Athens.

Coch Stegeman will not be present when the Athenians seek revenge against Clemson, the Bulldog mentor having gone to the annual meeting of the football rules committee, of which he was the only southern member. Coach Stegeman, before he left Athens, stated that he did not favor the proposed change in the fumble rule, which was adopted at the meeting.

Clemson won out over the Bulldogs last Saturday by a 30 to 23 score in a game that was appropriately described as weird, according to statements of Athens spectators at the game. The Bulldog is all hot for revenge and one of the best games of the year should result from the fracas.

The Tech game Saturday will, as usual, draw the largest crowd of the year to Athens, being augmented by one of those intense week-end made up of house parties, dances, etc. A defeat for Tech will dislodge them from the top of the conference roost.

The Bulldogs, aside from the natural rivalry between the two schools, have a score to settle with Tech for their 38 to 37 defeat earlier in the season, which was administered in the last minute of play after Georgia had led all the way until the closing seconds. Red Williamson, Tech forward, was again the Georgia nemesis. Tech has won two out of the last three games from the Bulldogs because of the alertness or accuracy of the sorrel-topped Yellow Jacket and he was an important factor in the third Tech victory.

Thus far the Georgians have won 11 conference games and have lost four to take fourth place in the loop, while they also have been defeated twice by the Atlanta Athletic club quintet.

YOUNG DEMPSEY IS SURE OF WIN OVER CARDWELL

"I never make the same mistake twice. I'll get Cardwell this time." That is the only comment that Young Jack Dempsey cares to make concerning his return scrap here Thursday night with Marshall Cardwell, the pugilistic pride of LaGrange, Georgia.

Cardwell and Dempsey fought to a stirring draw in their last fight at the city auditorium. Cardwell kept Dempsey in trouble with a left hand that raked Dempsey's body and face. Dempsey implies that he has caught on to Cardwell's style of fighting and that he will finish in front Thursday night.

However, Cardwell and his LaGrange supporters are inclined to scoff at that idea. The LaGrange boys are confident that their favorite will win Thursday night, although they are willing to admit that he will have a tough time achieving that goal.

In the main event of his Thursday night program Promoter Halon will offer such a choice pugilistic morsel as a ten-round battle between Ted Goodrich and William Dreyer. They met once at Columbus, Ga., and a draw resulted.

However, Goodrich has improved since that time and he believes will romp in with a victory over Cardwell to his credit.

New Coach Chosen For Navy's Baseball

Annapolis, Md., February 18.—(AP) Selection of E. T. Mohler, of Alhambra, Calif., who has been captain and manager of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league, to be field coach of the Navy baseball team was announced today by Commander Jonas H. Ingram, director of athletics at the Naval academy.

Cadets To Forfeit Smithy Game

Georgia Military Academy will not enter the fifth district tournament at Chamblee Wednesday, Coach Talliferro stated yesterday. The Cadets will enter the Chattanooga Times prep tournament at Chattanooga February 27, 28 and March 1, it was stated. The committee in charge of the Tennessee tournament stated over long distance wire last night that in invitation was mailed the Cadets yesterday. An invitation has also been extended Tech High. Coach Talliferro stated yesterday that the Smithies will enter the tournament and play through the fifth district meet. The Smithies and Cadets were scheduled to meet in the tournament Wednesday night.

G. M. A. will forfeit.

EXPERIENCE IN RING ENABLES HANLON TO GIVE GOOD SHOWS

Eddie Will Be Remembered by Old Timers as a Real Fighter

Eddie Hanlon, whose ability to put on jam-up boxing exhibitions has brought him local fame, attributes his success quite naturally to his own experience in the world of fistiana, for he is a battle-scarred veteran of numerous gruelling ring engagements, and holds a decision over Jack Britton, former middleweight champion.

Old-timers in Atlanta will recall that 15 years ago Eddie Hanlon was a boxing luminary who could stand up with the best of them and give and take. His cauliflower ear and fighter's nose, not to mention other scars, are marks of his ring courage in the old days.

That was back in the pre-war days when the old Orpheum and the Bijou were running on Marietta street and the Columbia on Central avenue. Grand old days they were—the days when every now and then Ted (Kid) Lewis would come down for a hair-raising fight in the city auditorium.

A Semi-final Boy Then.
It was in the old Bijou, before the war, that Champion Ad Wolgast got the stuffing knocked out of him by our old favorite, Frankie Whitney, and Eddie Hanlon was a semi-final wind-up boy, and a good one, too. Along about that time Battling Nelson was coming to the end of his trail, though still going great guns, and Billy Miske was just starting out. Both fought in the old Bijou.

It was in Savannah that Hanlon got his chance in a fight with Jack Britton and won the decision. Later Hanlon fought Britton in Buffalo, N. Y. Then Eddie's stock took a jump and he became a drawing card in principal cities throughout the country. But he never did abandon Atlanta—it's been his stamping ground always. Here he fought Champion Jimmy Perry, Mickey Garner and many others.

"Uppermost in my mind always has been a desire to get in there and fight—fight every minute, taking everything that came my way, because I wanted to please the house," says Eddie today. Maybe that's the reason every person who once sees an Eddie Hanlon produced fight always goes back. Anyhow, his ambition is to give the cash customers a run for their money," he says.

Quit Ten Years Ago.
Hanlon quit fighting ten years or more ago, but he couldn't quite get away from the lure of the ring. He became a referee, and he was a good one. Now he becomes matchmaker and his followers predict for him a great career in this latest venture.

A Craig Kennedy Mystery Story.

BY ARTHUR B. REEVE.

INSTALMENT 2.

It was not until the next morning that Kennedy seemed disposed to take it up. Along in the forenoon it was that we were approaching the fine old Kane mansion, out in Hempstead.

"I'd like to see Miss Layton—Louise Layton—if you please," Craig inquired at the door that seemed to be in the servants' quarters.

A pretty, saucy little face peeped over the broad shoulders of a substantial-looking cook who had come to the door. "I'm Louise Layton," she said, with the easy informality of the service end.

Kennedy bowed. "I have a letter to you, Miss Layton, from a friend." Careful not to let the cook see the club monogram or the handwriting, he passed to Louise the letter Stanley Kane had sent around to us the night before.

Louise glanced at it. "My word! Just when I'm busiest! It's time for the children to get dressed for that birthday luncheon party at the Walcotts. Oh, well, I don't break rules—often. Come with me," Louise led us into a little room used by the servants for receiving their friends. "I guess you know I'm the nurse for the Kane children."

"It's this way, Louise," explained Craig in an undertone. "Mr. Kane wants some quick action and he has asked me to help you get the goods on his wife. Are you willing to help me?" Kennedy could be persuasive.

Louise felt the charm of his personality. "Certainly I'll help—if Mr. Kane wants me to help. But I have two children to dress for a party. They are up in their nursery waiting for me this moment. Mr. Kane isn't coming home until just before lunch time to get them. You may come up to the nursery with me—for a few moments—while I get the children ready."

"I'd like that," agreed Craig. "It's a long time since I have played with kids."

"Well, the kids are brought up by rules and regulations. Strangers are tabooed."

Even before we reached the nursery we could hear the merry sound of children playing, gay shrieks of delight intermingled with full round tones of laughter, a mirth too deep for words.

"They sound happy," I ventured to Louise.

"They ought to be. Everything in the world they want. Their father would try to get the moon for them if they asked it," Louise said proudly.

"I don't believe all that good nature is inherited," remarked Kennedy. "I imagine you spread some of that about you." He looked at the girl with evident approval, almost admiration.

Louise was not exactly beautiful. But her face was irresistible. Just a moment ahead of us Louise skipped into the room, almost like one of them to romp with the children.

"This is going to be your first party, Junior. I'm going to get you ready in a few minutes. But I want you to meet some friends of mine first. Come, Dot. I have brought you some visitors."

Taking the little ones, each by a hand, she led them up to us. A grave boy and a curly were our greeting. Junior was serious, dark-eyed and brown-haired. Tight ringlets held something of the curl of the sun in their high-lights about his tiny ears and sun-brown neck. Dot was a merry golden-haired little girl hardly out of the chubbyhood of babyhood. Both were dressed in little white play suits.

"What a tragedy!" I whispered, aside to Craig. "Two youngsters like that—and not to be able to live with them!"

The nursery was a large room with four big windows. Three of them made up one side of the room, a group under which was a window seat and toy boxes. About the room were toys enough for a department store or a kindergarten.

The walls were covered with plaster board and in various panels were shown simply the wonders of nature. All were beautiful, interesting. A large square table, with very short legs, stood on one side of the room, up against the wall. On this was a shallow zinc tray with a rim about three inches around it, backing up the wall. Here the children could play in the sand, making mountains and hills, valleys and caves as their imaginations stirred them. About the floor, under the table, were scattered the sand boys of Dot, just as she had left them.

On the other side of the room was Junior's manual training bench, well equipped. Everything to amuse and stimulate the mind of a healthy, growing child seemed in that room. Doris Kane might have failed as a wife. But certainly there was judgment and discrimination in evidence here. She was a model society mother.

Mrs. Kane was late, but the children did not in the least mind waiting, in such a room.

"Mister, will you play with me?" Two big brown eyes were pleading with Craig. "I love to play with boys."

Kennedy laughed outright. "Surely, my boy. Tell me how you play it." He leaned over and listened attentively.

"So! Right away he ropes you into that game," Louise exclaimed with an amused laugh. Come, Dot. I'll get you ready first, while brother entertains Mr. Carson and his friend."

Dot left the room under protest. The sand was piled quickly in a heap. "Light a cigarette, mister. Push it 'way down in the top—not too far, here! It keeps on smoking. See! I have a volcano—a smoking mountain! Delighted, he jumped about as Craig carried out his directions.

So engrossed had I become in the game with Junior that it gave Craig a chance to observe the nursery, the general layout of that end of the house, the included sun room like a sleeping porch, the grounds from the windows, and the hall outside the nursery, before Louise returned with Dot all ready to go to the birthday party with her mother.

"Come, Junior," hastened Louise. While she was getting Junior ready, one chief trouble was to keep Dot up off the floor and from getting dirty. She inclined to the maternal instinct. Dots were the crowning attraction to her. Soon we were surrounded by her family, all sorts and conditions of dolls.

Junior's party preparations were soon over. Back to us he hurried, eager to be with men. I was sorry for that boy, sorry for that father. Each was missing the other.

Junior led Craig and me on a tour of inspection in which Dot joined. There were toys that talked, toys that walked, toys that flew. Kennedy entered into it with his whole soul.

Louise looked at us with amazement. "You should come to see me often. Say, I could leave you for a couple of hours to amuse these kids. They wouldn't even miss me. Where did you take your course in child training?" she asked me.

"Oh, look! Look what my father just bought me!" Out of a drawer Junior pulled a box still tied up. "Do you want to see it? What's in it? Guess."

Craig stood in deep thought. "A teddy bear—or a big dog."

"In dissent. Mr. father wouldn't buy me a teddy bear—or a dog or horse. Not now. I'm too big for that. Wait!"

Quickly Junior worked. String and paper flew about in his keen excitement. He drew the things forth from the package proudly as he sat on the edge of the sand table—a Boy Scout uniform, many sizes too big for him yet. But was that of small importance to Junior?

With a smile aside to us, Craig asked, "Do you belong, Junior?"

"No," he replied sadly. "I have to wait until I'm twelve, father says. But I'll be ready to join."

In the sand box the rest of the equipment had dropped—knife, hatchet, aluminum cooking utensils, and a compass—as he held up the hat and uniform. Craig looked at them all closely with a satisfying interest for the boy. As it slipped off his lap the glass cover over the compass came off and the needle dropped off in the sand. Kennedy was a long time cleaning it and putting the needle again on its pivot, adjusting it.

"Louise! Louise!" Up the stairs came a maid's voice. "I want you to sign for something from a New York store. Come down."

The nurse hesitated a moment, then decided to be left alone with the precious children.

DAY IN FINANCE

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, February 18.—Under the leadership of copper there was some recovery in the stock market during the early trading. With call money at 8 per cent the stock market had another sinking spell around 11:30. In the noon hour call money dropped to 7-1/2 and later to 7 and stock prices again recovered.

Trading, however, in the stock market was very much lighter than last week. For the first two hours the turnover was 1,000,000 shares below the corresponding period for Saturday. A point was reached in the stock market today where a recovery was due even if only temporary. The most severe break that has occurred in the stock market since the recent year was in March of 1928. For that month there was a decline of 30 points in the average price. However, the record shows that during March there were several temporary recoveries, some running a couple of days or more.

Wall street bankers had a steady stream of callers today making inquiries regarding the stock market. One active banker having many callers including both large and small traders in the stock market, told our correspondent that he had been answering questions by asking questions. He said that most of his callers admitted in response to a direct question that the bull stock market could not continue in the face of existing money market conditions; that when the big market prices declined to a level in which they were reached where in time a new jig can be started.

Past Point.
There is no question but that thinking Wall street believes that the federal reserve system has passed the point of merely issuing warnings against excessive stock speculation involving federal reserve credit to a degree where if continued money will advance to a level where general trade will be slowed down. In banking circles it was pointed out today that since the Bank of England advanced its discount rate from 4-1/2 per cent to 5-1/2 per cent 10 days ago to prevent our stock market from taking more gold, the federal reserve board backed up by its advisory council had clearly placed the responsibility for use of federal reserve credit in the stock market upon the federal reserve banks; that the federal reserve banks in turn have been borrowing member banks walk the carpet; that member banks in turn started to call in heavily. Friday's closing of $20,000,000 loans here running the call money rate up from 6-1/2 to 10 per cent; that the heavy calling of loans by member banks had upset the stock market bringing about violent liquidation; that with the stock market upset the call money market was less attractive to corporations leading idle funds in the call money market on which the stock market has been feeding.

In brief it was pointed out in Wall street today that the federal reserve board, the federal reserve banks and the member banks had recovered control of the money market, something that really had never been lost.

Recovery Due.
That a recovery in the stock market was due even if only temporary is evident from the extent to which some stocks have declined. A list Saturday's low Alchison eliminating fractions, was down 13 points from its recent high. New York Central 28, Steel common 24, Sears-Roebuck 28, Alcoa common 26, Montgomery Ward 36, General Electric 38, Chrysler 42, Johns-Manville 48, Radio 75.

Taking the stock market as a whole the opening was unchanged from the closing of last week. Last Saturday the average price of 50 representative stocks touched 232.49. This was a drop of 10.65 points from the new high for all time made February 1 at 243.14. That is a considerable decline for a half month.

Evidently, however, leaders expected the stock market to go on to an outstanding feature before the opening of the market this morning reported privately by several large houses in response to an inquiry was widespread withdrawal of buying orders good until cancelled which had been placed on the closing days of last week.

Market Gossip

Daily Views of Wall Street Stock Market by Telegraph.

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, February 18.—(Special).—Market developments were favorable to our position.

Following a short period of irregularity after a higher opening, stocks turned firm and sold generally at higher prices. Improved sentiment resulted partly from a report that Secretary Mellon would issue a statement after the close of the market and it was generally expected that this statement would be a favorable one.

Among the relative strength strongly to recommend Erie as well as Pennsylvania, St. Paul and N. O., while such utilities as United Gas and Electric, National Power and Light and Engineers Public Service look good for long pull commitments at these levels.

Traction issues, including Brooklyn Manhattan Transit, which we have been recommending, showed good reaction to a favorable supreme court decision in the interborough fare case. Other stocks in Manhattan would appear the more logical and safer buy for those who wish to speculate on the rebounding of a favorable decision.

H. & B. BEER.

New York, February 18.—(Special).—Stocks did not break wide open today as many expected, but on the contrary, showed increasing strength and closed in a rally. Several individual issues, including Copper and American and Foreign Power, might quite independently of the market and actually established new price levels.

A long list of other stocks were in demand, including both the can stocks, Sinclair, Harco, and American Water Works. Central, American Water Works, New Haven, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Warner Bros., Wright, Smith, Paramount, Loews, Lumber, Nickel, Erie, Chesapeake and Ohio, Atlantic Refining, Montgomery Ward, etc.

The current rally doesn't particularly prove anything, it does show that everyone that sold stocks after the overnight drop Saturday practically got the bottom.

We felt that the market's behavior was overdue and that one should be careful not to be over-influenced by all this bullish news.

We cannot truthfully say that the market has proved itself beyond all doubt, but at least we expect it to do so later.

By mid-afternoon the market was in a position to be selling far above their previous highs for the year and we believe that by that time the credit situation will be largely relieved with possibly a lower discount rate than exists at present.

There is no need for the small trader who wants a few hundred shares of stock to rush in until conditions have definitely turned, but we do think many really big active buyers are buying.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, February 18.—(Special).—Stocks continued to recover briskly during the afternoon as money further sagged off to 7 per cent and on rumors that Mr. Mellon would make a bullish statement after the close today.

We expect more pressure from the federal reserve, however, and while we remain bullish for the pull on the issue, we do not see selling on this advance to strength in accounts.

JACKSON, BROOK, ROSE & CO.

New York, February 18.—(Special).—Week end reflection did not seem to upset the public confidence in the present level of stock prices.

We looked for a continuation of rising prices yesterday.

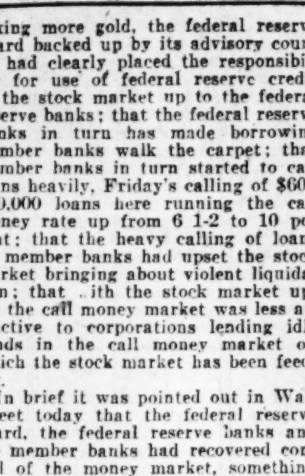

We will have ready for distribution today a special analysis of International Combustion Engineering corporation.

We regard the common stock as a good long pull speculation.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, February 18.—(Special).—Optimistic dry goods reports about sales, fertilizers and predictions of another period of unfavorable weather held the cotton market steady today.

HERE'S SOMETHING WRONG ABOUT THAT SHINY-BODY WE CAME BACK LAST NIGHT AND ONE OF THE WINDOWS WAS OPEN. WE OPENED THE DOOR SILENT LIKE.

WE DIDN'T MAKE ANY NOISE, BUT WE HEARD A SOUND IN THE ATTIC. THAT SCARED MOST OF US SILLY. ALL THE FELLOWS RAN OUT BUT JOHNNY, JERRY AND ME.

WHISPERED, 'LIGHT THE LAMP', BUT, GEE WHIZ, JERRY'S MATCH WAS BLOWN OUT. WE SAW A DARK THING RUSH DOWN FROM THE ATTIC AND OUT THE DOOR IT WENT.

WE RAN TO THE DOOR BUT IT WAS TOO DARK TO SEE OUTSIDE. WE WERE SCARED STIFF BUT WE LET THE LAMPS, AND THEN SOMEBODY YELLED AT US FROM THE WINDOW.

IT WAS THE SKINNY GUY, JERRY WAS SO MAD BECAUSE THE SKINNY GUY SCARED HIM. I KNEW RIGHT AWAY THERE WAS GONNA BE A FIGHT—OH BOY—

I DON'T KNOW WHAT HAPPENED THEN. THE LAST THING I SAW WAS JERRY GOING OUT THE WINDOW AFTER THE SKINNY GUY. I GOT ALL EXCITED—WE BEAT IT!"

ALMA RUBENS AT HOME AFTER HER OPERATION

Los Angeles, February 18.—(AP).—Apparently victorious in the first stages of her fight to rid herself of the narcotic habit, Alma Rubens, screen actress, was back home today recovering from the effects of an operation.

Miss Rubens, who underwent the operation in a Hollywood hospital a few days ago as the result of illness occasioned by a nervous breakdown and the use of narcotics, had recovered sufficiently last night to be removed to her Beverly Hills home.

STOCK EXCHANGE "HORSESHOE" POST CALLED SUCCESS

New York, February 18.—(AP).—The first of the New York Stock Exchange's new "horseshoe" trading posts was used today for the first time and pronounced a success by the specialists who operated it.

The new post is not really a post, but is of brass and resembles a cashier's ticket. It takes the place of the old trading posts and has listings for 100 stocks, compared to 24 at a single old post. The telephone clerks of the specialists are placed at the clerks' desks, and the wall of the exchange's trading floor 50 to 200 feet away from the specialists.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

UNDER THE EFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE AMERICANS THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS RECOVERED RAPIDLY FROM THE EFFECTS OF THE WAR. AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY WAS INTRODUCED AND TRADE AND INDUSTRY INCREASED BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS. THIS PROGRESS WAS AIDED BY THE BUILDING OF ROADS AND BRIDGES AND THE IMPROVEMENT OF HARBORS AND RIVERS.

THE SPANISH FRIARS, WHO UNDER THE SPANISH REGIME HAD HELD VAST TRACTS (400,000 ACRES) OF THE BEST LANDS, HAD BEEN DISPOSSESSED BY THE INSURGENTS. THE FRIARS NOW BOUGHT TO RECOVER THEIR PROPERTY. FILIPINOS HAD SETTLED ON THE CHURCH LANDS. THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SOLVED THE PROBLEM BY BUYING THE LAND FROM THE FRIARS FOR $7,200,000 AND SELLING IT TO THE NATIVES ON EASY TERMS.

Progress in the Philippines.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ONE OF THE FIRST STEPS TAKEN BY THE AMERICANS WAS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SYSTEM OF MODERN EDUCATION IN THE ISLANDS. HUNDREDS OF TEACHERS WERE SENT TO THE PHILIPPINES, SCHOOLS WERE OPENED, AND SOON THE YOUNG FILIPINOS WERE BEING TAUGHT TO READ AND WRITE.

THE WORK OF TAKING A CENSUS WAS COMPLETED IN 1905. IT SHOWED THAT THE PHILIPPINES HAD A POPULATION OF 7,635,426, OF WHOM 647,740 WERE SAVAGE "HEAD-HUNTERS". TOMORROW—THE MASSACRE AT BALANGIGA.
